

MAHARAJA TO BUILD HERE

(Picture On Page 4)
Construction was started today on one of the most expensive houses ever to be built in Orange county following issuance of a building permit for $40,000 to Allison Honer, contractor, for "M. L. Holkar" who is none other than Maharajahaholkar, Holkar Bohadur, the Maharaja of Indore, India. According to Honer the residence will be built at the corner of Helioprop and Santa Clara avenue and will have supplementary costs of $10,000.

The Maharaja, who left Santa Ana yesterday, accompanied by two Indian army officers and a chauffeur, does not intend to make a permanent residence in the city, but is building the 12-room house for his five-year-old daughter, according to David Howell, Santa Ana attorney for the royal family.

Desires Safety
While no definite information could be gained as to the reason for the Indian prince locating here, it was the opinion of those of the inner circle that the unsettled condition of Europe and a desire for safety for the tiny heirs that prompted the move.

The Maharaja today is enroute to New York City where he will be joined by his little daughter and unless there is a change in plans the retinue will return to Santa Ana the last of the month.

Tall, dark and very slim, the 32-year-old Maharaja is an Oxford graduate, speaks English with accent and devotes the major part of his time in the study of world affairs and is intensely interested in the arts, particularly painting and music.

Many Holdings
Because of vast land holdings and extreme wealth, the youthful leader must spend much of his time in England and on the continent as well as at affairs of state in northern India. Since the death of the mother of the little princess, the Maharaja travels with two captains of the Indian army and at times has a retinue of 12 or 15 servants.

The new home for the princess was designed by Architect Donald Beach Kirby, of Balboa Island, and will be of frame and stucco material. Surrounding the entire property on the south-east corner of Helioprop Drive and Santa Clara avenue a masonry wall will be constructed.

To safeguard the life of the princess a system of double doors will be installed in the home and ornamental cast iron grilles will cover the windows, which will be of plate glass. A deck, 80 by 20 feet has been designed for the second floor of the home and will be glass enclosed. At the rear of the house a tile pool will be constructed while floors of the house will be covered with sheet rubber. A 10 foot sidewalk will lead from the street to the house which will contain the latest improvements in modern home building.

The Maharaja, who had been to Southern California several times in the past, is said to have located in Santa Ana to escape publicity and because he does not like large cities. His two imported automobiles, a Lagonda, of English make, and the other an Alfa-Romeo, an Italian car, are priced at approximately $10,000 each.

The State of Indore has a population of 1,300,000 and contains nearly 10,000 square miles. The state had its origin in an assignment of lands made in the 13th century to Malhar Rao Holkar, a peasant's son who worked his way up to a cavalry command in the army of the Marhatta peshwa. He was born at the village of Hol near Poona and from this source the present Maharaja derives his surname of Holkar. His salute is 19 guns.

In 1818, by treaty of Mandasore the state transferred to the British government its suzerainty over a number of minor tributary states and acknowledged the British protectorate.

For many years afterwards the administration of the Holkar princes was troubled by internal quarrels, misrule and dynastic contentions according to a history of the country, and frequent inter-position of British authority was required. Of its last two rulers, one abdicated in 1903 and his successor in 1926.

SOVIET ENVOY CONFERS WITH PAIR HELD IN L. A. AS SPIES

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 15.—(UP)—Mikhail Ivanushkin, soviet vice consul of New York, conferred in jail with one of two Russians held on charges of stealing American naval secrets and promised a statement sometime today.

Ivanushkin talked with Mikhail Gorin, 34, manager of Soviet Tourist Agency, in the county jail. Gorin, a Soviet citizen, was held with Hafis Salich, 33, a naturalized American, under $25,000 bond. Accompanying the vice consul were United States Attorney Benjamin Harrison, and a federal agent, United States Marshal Robert Clark granted Ivanushkin permission to see his countryman.

Studies Case

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Dec. 15.—(UP)—Secretary of State Frank C. Jordan today announced that 2,695,904 votes were cast at the Nov. 8 general election, representing 74.65 per cent of the registered voters. The vote was the second highest on record, being exceeded only by the 1936 total of 2,712,342.

The summary of votes on the 25 initiative and referendum measures on the ballot showed that seven were adopted and 18 defeated. In the latter classification were the controversial $30-every-Thursday pension plan, which lost by a margin of 255,329 votes, and the labor control initiative, No. 1, on the ballot, which lost by 409,150 votes.

Sturzenacker Loses Battle

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 15.—(UP)—Judge Emmet Wilson today denied the petition of two suspended officials of the state lands division for a temporary restraining order to halt Chairman Fred B. Wood of the state personnel board from continuing his one-man investigation.

The two officials, Carl Sturzenacker and Arthur Alexander, were suspended because of their asserted connection with a state-owned tidal land oil plot. They obtained a writ of prohibition last week from Judge Wilson which blocked Wood's hearing.

They charged Wood was prejudiced and that the case should be heard by the entire membership of the state personnel board.

MAN SLAIN IN HOSPITAL

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 15.—(UP)—George J. Dally, 21-year-old sailor seeking to avenge a series of knife attacks on his family, invaded San Francisco hospital at gunpoint today, shot and killed his former brother-in-law, Morris Cornpropst, on a hospital bed and wounded a policeman guarding Cornpropst.

It was the third outbreak of violence in 14 months between Cornpropst and the Dally family. Cornpropst was the estranged husband of Sue Dally Cornpropst, sister of George. She accompanied George to the hospital.

Officer Near Death
Cornpropst, taken unawares by the sudden attack, was killed outright. Dally pumped three bullets into him. Policeman Walter Salisbury was feared fatally wounded. Dally shot him once in the groin. Dally was overpowered by hospital attendants and placed under arrest.

The hospital was plunged into an uproar.
The wife and Oliver Wilson, sailor or companion of the slayer, were arrested in a cab outside the hospital after the shooting. They said they followed Dally to the hospital.

Cornpropst had been in the hospital recovering from three bullet wounds inflicted by his wife three weeks ago, after Cornpropst stabbed her.

Teacher Saves Students' Lives

TAFT, Calif., Dec. 15.—(UP)—Mrs. Jessie Stockman, a teacher at the Lincoln elementary school here, was credited today with saving the lives of 20 pupils by marching them from a schoolroom just before the ceiling fell in.

Teaching the last class of the afternoon yesterday, Mrs. Stockman heard a splitting noise and looked up to see a huge crack run the length of the room. Maintaining her calm, the teacher called to the children to form quickly into marching formation and led them out onto a playground.

A moment after the last child had left the room, the ceiling fell with a thundering crash. With masses of dust and a cool-headed action Mrs. Stockman saved the children.

ORANGE JUSTICE OF PEACE CONTESTS NOV. 8 ELECTION

Contesting the election of David Fairbairn, deputy county jailer, to the office of justice of the peace in Orange, Cal. D. Lester, incumbent, today filed an action in superior court to have all of the ballots recounted.

In the official count at the last general election, Fairbairn won by eight votes, 2767 to 2759, although in the primaries with three candidates in the field, his total of votes ran behind that of Justice Lester. Represented by Atty. Warren Schutz, deputy district attorney but acting in a private capacity for Justice Lester, Lester claims there were numerous irregularities in the ballot-counting through "inadvertance and mistakes" of the election boards.

"Irregularities" If the votes had been counted properly, the result of the election would have been different, Justice Lester holds, and he would have been re-elected. His statement and action to contest the election, filed

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 15.—(UP)—Colonel (Moe the Gimp) Snyder, solemnly limped to the witness chair in superior court here today to offer testimony he hopes will enable him to "beat the rap" on charges of kidnapping and shooting Myrl Alderman dapper musician who displaced him as the husband of Ruth Etting, blonde blues singer.

Colonel Moe was questioned by Attorney Jerry Giesler, kinsman of the criminal lawyers of Los Angeles and Hollywood. Under Giesler's questioning the Gimp related his early life, including his meeting with Miss Etting in 1920, when he was 25 years old.

Chorus Girl
"I met her in the Marigold Gardens, a beautiful eating place," said the Colonel. "She was a $25 per week chorus girl. I helped her in her work and helped get her a job in the Terrace Gardens in the Morrison hotel."

The Gimp at that time had a political job, he said, with the Chicago sanitary district. Proudly he intimated he was a "somebody" in Chicago politics.

"The other kids in the chorus at the Terrace Garden called her 'Miss City Hall,' Snyder testified.

Light Rains Hit Valley Areas

FRESNO, Cal., Dec. 15.—(UP)—Light rains which fell last night brought slightly higher temperatures to the San Joaquin Valley today, the U. S. weather bureau reported.

Unsettled weather with probable showers tonight was forecast for the valley. Fresno received 11 of an inch of rain, bringing the season's total to 1.05 inches as compared to a normal figure of 2.42. The minimum temperature was 39 degrees, two degrees lower than yesterday's minimum.

Secretary of Commerce Daniel C. Roper officially announced his resignation from membership on President Roosevelt's cabinet today. According to the announcement made at the White House, Secretary Roper's resignation becomes effective December 23.

COUNTY WELCOMES END OF DRY SPELL

Brilliant sunshine today chased away the leaden skies of yesterday that brought the first real rain storm since last spring to Santa Ana and Orange county.

With the exception of Santiago Dam where a fall of 1.40 inches were recorded, the average precipitation in the county was less than half an inch. Only two communities had a half inch or more: they were Yorba Linda with .58 and Villa Park with .50.

Long Dry Spell
The rain of yesterday and last night was the first to fall in measurable quantities since April 30 when a shower of .30 of an inch was recorded.

Ranchers of the county watched the downpour with joy as the vision of prolonged drought was washed away by the beneficial rain. Even merchants of the various cities of the county rejoiced in the long-wanted rain, despite the possibility of diminished crowds of Christmas shoppers.

Landslides
In the Santa Monica area, burned over by the disastrous fire of last month a number of damaging landslides were reported. Hillsides denuded by flames of their vegetation, slid down upon the Roosevelt highway and the road at the head of Topanga canyon. No slides were reported in Orange county, according to County Road Commissioner A. A. Beard.

Dixon W. Tubbs today said that the rain was "wholly beneficial." The moisture came just in time to avert heavy drought damage to

California Gets Crop Laboratory

BERKELEY, Calif., Dec. 15.—(UP)—A $750,000 crop processing laboratory will be erected by the federal government here for use in attacking the problem of crop surpluses in 11 western states, it was announced today.

The divisional office of the U. S. department of agriculture said the laboratory would be built in Albany, close to the University of California, and mostly on university property. The project will have a research staff of 200. Its yearly maintenance budget will be $1,000,000.

C. B. Hutchinson, dean of California's school of agriculture, said that "the laboratory will develop a positive program for surplus control instead of the present negative method of destroying surpluses."

Anthony Eden Visits Maryland

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Dec. 15.—(UP)—Anthony Eden, former British foreign secretary, came back today to the grave of an ancestor, Sir Robert Eden, last provincial governor of Maryland and friend of George Washington, and praised the state's traditional religious and political tolerance.

Eden heard his ancestor described by Sen. Radcliffe, D., Md., as a man who understood the local viewpoint and sympathized in a general way with the American "rebels," whose revolt in 1776 sent Sir Robert fleeing from the country.

He joined with Maryland state officials, headed by Gov. Harry W. Nice, in drinking a toast to "The King" proposed by Blanchard Randall and local residents believed it was the first time high-ranking Maryland officials had drunk to the king since the American revolution.

Hull Offers Trade Plan

LIMA, Peru, Dec. 15.—(UP)—A United States project to be submitted shortly to the eighth Pan-American conference will lay down a four point program designed to bolster trade in the western world and emphasize U. S. Secretary of State Cordell Hull's argument that freer commerce is the key to world peace.

The project which has been approved by 17 nations and probably will be accepted unanimously, reaffirms the action of conferences at Buenos Aires and Montevideo urging removal of trade restrictions and recommends:

4-Point Plan
1.—That the American governments adopt as soon as possible "reasonable" duties "instead of other forms of restriction on commerce."
2.—A mutual agreement for reduction to the minimum of technical barriers retarding imports.
3.—Negotiations for commercial conventions on the principle of "no discrimination" in trade relations.

4.—Efforts by "appropriate methods" to get other nations to adopt the above principles.

Gets Support
It was proposed to put the resolution before the economic committee of the conference, as the first step toward getting the conference itself to vote a trade declaration, which Secretary of State Cordell Hull, leading the United States delegation, regards as one of the most important problems of the conference.

HIGH OFFICIALS IN DRUG CO. INDICTED

NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—(UP)—A federal grand jury today indicted F. Donald Coster, president, and George Dietrich, assistant treasurer, of McKesson & Robbins, Inc., in connection with an estimated shortage of $18,000,000 in the 105-year-old drug firm's listed assets.

The indictment also named George Vernard, an agent, and the corporation as defendants and accused all four of violating the federal law which makes it a crime to file false statements with the New York Stock Exchange.

An audit filed with the exchange in 1937 listed the company's assets at more than $87,000,000, including a crude drug department which investigators now believe does not exist.

Gregory F. Noonan, acting U. S. attorney in the absence of Lamar Hardy, said the grand jury had "just begun" its investigation and that indictments charging other violations probably would be returned "in a few days."

After returning the indictment, which included a conspiracy charge, the jury resumed examination of 50 to 60 witnesses.

Assets Missing
Coster and Dietrich were arrested last week on charges of a conspiracy to defraud the federal securities act of 1934 and Vernard, named in the same complaint, surrendered to federal authorities here today.

Vernard was described as Canadian manager and agent in charge of market operations for the drug company. Purported Canadian assets of the company cannot be found by investigators.

"Twister" Hits Court House

An old-fashioned prairie "twister" struck the courthouse yesterday afternoon, and momentarily had the county's official family looking for a convenient cyclone cellar.

The abbreviated twister charged suddenly out of a strong south wind before 1:30 p. m., appearing as a long funnel of dust and leaves. Tall palms and magnolias twisted and swayed under the curling grip of the tornado, which then smashed again: the heavy doors at the south entrance. One door was partly torn from its hinges and both were jammed together, the glass in one door being shattered.

Red Sox, Detroit Trade 5 Men

NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—(UP)—The Boston Red Sox and the Detroit Tigers made a five-player deal today which sent Pitcher Eldon Auker to Boston and Third Baseman "Pinky" Higgins to Detroit.

2 VACANCIES IN CABINET

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—(UP)—The White House today announced the resignation of Secretary of Commerce Daniel C. Roper effective Dec. 23.

The announcement was made public in a brief exchange of letters between President Roosevelt and Roper.

The White House announcement followed by a few hours an authoritative report of Roper's intention to retire carried by the United Press.

Business Calls
Roper's letter explained that he desired to return to private life to give attention to his personal affairs.

Roper's resignation left two cabinet vacancies for Mr. Roosevelt to fill. Attorney General Cummings' resignation, effective after Jan. 1, previously had been announced.

Secretary of Interior Ickes announced earlier today that he would not resign to run for mayor of Chicago. He said Mr. Roosevelt had asked him to stay "in harness."

Sincere Regrets
Mr. Roosevelt expressed "sincere regret" at Roper's decision.

There was no indication immediately as to Roper's successor. Reports circulated several weeks ago that the commerce secretaryship might be taken by Works Progress Administrator Hopkins in event of Roper's retirement.

Cites Rise In Relief Costs

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Dec. 15.—(UP)—State Controller Larry Riley today cited mounting unemployment relief costs and decline in general business conditions for the $27,292,526 cash deficiency of the state on Nov. 30, an increase of $16,000,000 for the same date last year.

Riley said state general fund revenues decreased about $7,600,000 during the five months of the present fiscal year, from $74,919,844 for the same period in 1937 to $67,317,765 for 1938.

Chief loss in revenue was in the retail sales and use taxes, which dropped $5,150,000. Inheritance taxes were down $2,050,000. Small gains were registered in the bank and corporation franchise tax, personal income tax and insurance taxes.

Unemployment relief costs rose $9,027,699 over the same period for the preceding fiscal year.

Basin States Discuss Rates

PHOENIX, Ariz., Dec. 15.—(UP)—The seven states of the Colorado river basin came to a virtual agreement today to submit a proposal to the next session of Congress for lowered power rates from Boulder Dam to the Los Angeles bureau of power and light and the Metropolitan Water District of Southern California.

The basin committee began a study of a mass of statistics gathered by consulting engineers to show the need of lowering the rates after Arizona and Nevada, between whose borders Boulder Dam is built, gave their approval of the proposal.

Although a formal vote was not taken, the two states agreed to accept an annual payment of $300,000 each as their share of the surplus revenue of the dam as recompense for taxable wealth lost in the construction of the project.

U. S. SPENDING PASSES FOUR BILLION MARK FOR THIS YEAR

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—(UP)—The treasury announced today that government spending this fiscal year has passed the $4,000,000,000 mark.

There already was considerable speculation in the capital when the announcement was made as to whether Vice President Garner will attempt to organize conservative Democrats into a legislative economy bloc to curb federal spending.

To See F. D. R.

The vice president and Mrs. Garner are expected to return Saturday for the forthcoming Congressional session and Garner soon thereafter will join the parade of legislative leaders to the White House for conferences.

The treasury announcement placed exact expenditures between July and December 13 inclusive at $4,002,400,533.

The net deficit, the treasury said, was $1,565,129,330, more than twice the sum by which the treasury went into the red in the corresponding period of the previous fiscal year.

Borrow Millions

By nightfall, the national debt will have been increased to approximately $39,400,000,000 by the borrowing of $740,000,000 of funds to help pay government costs through March, 1939. Further borrowing probably will be necessary in March. Offsetting the debt and deficit bulge will be the current condition of the treasury cash box when today's borrowing operations are placed on the books and reported later in the week. Secretary Morgenthau's working balance of spending money will amount almost to $2,500,000,000.

The vice president has been sharply critical of New Deal spending methods although his personal relations with Mr. Roosevelt, in whose cabinet he occupies an unofficial position, have remained friendly.

FOOD DRIVE HELD

The high school annual Christmas food drive was held this week under the direction of Robert Crawford with the service clubs assisting him. Four large boxes were placed in the foyer and were to remain there all during the week, in which the students were to place all gifts they brought. Gifts were to consist of non-perishable foods, such as canned goods. Crawford said, "Last year the high school took care of 60 families at Christmas time, and we should do equally as well this year."

New FREEDOM

The Greatest GIFT of All!

● You've heard your lady talk about the things she'd like to do if she weren't so tied down by housework . . . how she'd like to play golf . . . or spend more time with her friends . . . or do more club or musical work. You've heard her say that she'd love to go out more evenings, but that she's so weary she'd just fall asleep.

And the fact is that she hasn't enough time to herself . . . that she's too often kept in when she'd like to be away. ## The Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON—Friends of Harry Hopkins claim they have uncovered the real source of the hotly disputed remark attributed to him, "We will tax and tax, and spend and spend, and elect and elect."

Arthur Krock, able Washington correspondent of The New York Times, charged the Relief Administrator with making the statement at a racetrack. Hopkins wrote a letter to The Times denying authorship and demanding that Krock reveal his source. Krock refused, saying he was pledged to secrecy, but insisted that the informant was reliable.

Now intimates of Hopkins say the original author of the statement was Berney Baruch, millionaire New York financier and bitter secret foe of Hopkins; also that General Hugh Johnson, ex-NRA boss and one-time business associate of Baruch, publicly quoted Baruch as having said it.

As their proof, Hopkins' friends cite a speech made by Johnson September 13, 1933, at a Merchants Association banquet in New York, in which he said, "Some months ago one of our greatest liberal statesmen, Bernard Baruch, said in a speech advising action, something like this—'Tax, tax everybody for everything—spend, spend for employment...'

Washington Merry-Go-Round
Washington is not the only place where the Government maintains a Merry-Go-Round.

Governor C. S. Ridley of the Canal Zone says in his annual report: "At Farfan Beach, in addition to numerous improvements, such as grading, etc., a merry-go-round was installed (by the government) and is now self-supporting."

Spanish War
Decision of the United States to propose a settlement of the Spanish Civil War by Pan-American countries is the first move made by the New Deal independent of the Chamberlain government in many months.

The strategy was mapped out by the American delegation to the Pan-American conference before Cordell Hull left for Lima. Word also was communicated to London and Paris well in advance of the conference opening.

At first, diplomatic representatives of European democracies were inclined to belittle the power of Spanish-American countries to help settle such a bitter dispute. Later, however, they realized that American proposal would be a telling blow against Fascist-Nazi dictators.

The proposal may not get very far, but at least it will show the definite interest of the USA in restoring peace in Spain.

Lady Representative
Miss Jessie Sumner will cause a sharp drop in the average age of the lady members of congress.

Mrs. Mary Norton of New Jersey is 63. Mrs. Caroline O'Day of New York is 63, and Mrs. Edith Nourse Rogers of Massachusetts is 57.

But Miss Sumner, Republican of Illinois is only 39.

Yet she has been around. She graduated at Smith College, studied law at Oxford, England, opened a law office in Chicago, and worked for the Chase National bank in New York on income tax and trust cases.

Then she went back to Iroquois county, Illinois, and became a county judge.

The lady is modest withal. She wrote a letter to Washington, in advance of her coming, saying, "I am afraid that you will shortly discover that I am not a very sparkling person."

WPA Conflict
Whether New Dealers like it or not, the future of WPA is going to be thrust on them immediately congress opens. This is because funds of WPA will be exhausted February 15, and in order to obtain a new appropriation by that time Roosevelt will have to send a message to congress as soon as it convenes.

To prepare for this message, Roosevelt already has received three sets of recommendations from his advisers. They are split into three groups.

Group 1 urges drastic slashing of relief expenditures. They want the jobless problem thrown back on states and local communities, with only a small dole.

Group 2 wants the government to take over the entire unemployment problem by providing jobs for all, instead of a portion, of the idle. This group advocates a $1,500,000,000 deficiency appropriation.

Group 3 stands between the other two. It opposes Group 2 on the ground that the Government can't carry the entire relief load and any such attempt might upset the whole work-relief program. It also opposes Group 1 on the ground that State relief plus a meagre dole would have disastrous economic effects.

The third groupers argue that if the present rate of business recovery is to be continued into the spring, there must be a backlog of WPA expenditures. Their position is that WPA serves not only as a means of taking care of jobless, but also as an economic stabilizer. If its funds are drastically cut, there will be a repetition of the 1937 business nose-dive.

The Spring Outlook
The middle-of-the-roads are urging on Roosevelt a deficiency appropriation of $700,000,000.

They arrive at this figure from reports of private analysts, confirmed by government experts, on what the economic picture is likely to be next spring. This picture, they predict, will be as follows:

Industrial and agricultural activity will approach that of the spring of 1937, when approximately 9,000,000 were unemployed and there were 2,500,000 on WPA rolls. The current relief load is slightly over 3,000,000.

WPA costs average $61 per month per man, divided $53 for labor, $6.50 for materials and $1.50 for administrative costs. On this basis a roll of 2,500,000 for four and a half months, February 15 to July 1, will require $700,000,000.

Roosevelt's answer to this tough problem still is unframed. He has reached no decision.

Merry-Go-Round

In September, Ben M. Cherrington came to the State Department from Denver as head of the new Division of Cultural Relations. His salary was $5600. Cultural relations are booming; now he is getting $8,000. The President is very fond of shad roe. Despite the President's boost for "scrambled eggs", a recent Department of Agriculture release was captioned, "Egg prices show less than seasonal increase. Chickens continue low." Bill Castle, Under Secretary of State under Hoover, recently damned Hull's Good Neighbor policy as spineless and hypocritical. The speech had little effect upon USA opinion but started Latin Americans praying for a third term for Roosevelt.

"Ham and Eggs" Plan Attacked
SALT LAKE CITY, Dec. 15.—(UP)—Leonard E. Read, Santa Francisco, manager of the Western Council of the United States Chamber of Commerce, declared before a local chamber of commerce group that there was "only a difference of degree" between deficit financing by the federal government and California's "ham and eggs" plan.

"Both the thirty dollars every Thursday" plan and the economic theory of deficit financing arise from the fallacy that you can take money from one, give it to another, and benefit both," Read said.

FARM LEADER RAPS UNION ORGANIZERS

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 15.—(UP)—The Associated Farmers of California charged today that the names of organizers and "agitators" of the United Cannery, Agricultural, Packing and Allied Workers of America, in convention here, "reads like a who's who in Communism."

S. H. Stratham, field secretary of the Associated Farmers, quoted Benjamin Stolberg as saying that "this so-called agricultural union is more Communistically controlled than any other union."

Raps Leader
"Donald Henderson," the Associated Farmers' statement read, "the organizer and national president, is a nationally known Communist and first received widespread attention by being discharged from the faculty of the Columbia University after declaring his membership in the Communist party."

The union's convention delegates this week have attacked the Associated Farmers as being "vigilante in character." They demanded that the LaFollette Senate civil liberties committee investigate the Associated Farmers.

The Associated Farmers' statement charged that Pat Cahallan, president of the California unit of the union, "is a Communist with a known record dating back to the days when he was an organizer in Arizona for the old Cannery and Agricultural Workers Industrial Union."

Envoy Visits Spy Suspects

to the meeting, Frankel was overheard to inform Gorin that he would see him again today.

Guarded
Ivanushkin, accompanied by two aides, T. Baranov and S. Michael, arrived last night by plane. They guarded him from cameramen and refused to answer questions of reporters. Baranov was described as a civil engineer; Michael as an interpreter.

Both prisoners, arrested Sunday, had been held incommunicado. Gorin, however, was allowed to telephone the Soviet embassy at Washington three times and indicated that he was trying to furnish bond. He formerly was attached to the consulate here.

Salish, "loaned" to the naval intelligence office at San Pedro by the Berkeley, Calif., police department, was accused of passing on Gorin secrets of Japanese naval strength that the United States had obtained. He has lived in this country 15 years, is a linguist. The navy department wanted him because he spoke Japanese.

San Pedro is frequented by Japanese fishing boats, which the American Legion has long accused of "spying" on the United States fleet. One of its west coast bases is San Pedro. The campaign bore fruit and in recent years more than 50 fishing boats have been libeled for illegal registry.

U. S. Did Work
An FBI spokesman said of the Russians' arrests:

"To sum this case up, what these men did was to steal the secret information we had obtained on the Japanese military, and converted it to their own use. They let us do all the work, and they hoped to get all the benefit from this material."

The suspects were not accused of trafficking in United States defense secrets.

Their cases probably will go to a federal grand jury next Wednesday. Their bonds are returnable Dec. 24.

Maharaja's $50,000 Palace To Be Built In Santa Ana

Pictured above is Architect Donald Beach Kirby's conception of how the $50,000 home being built for "M. L. Holkar," the Maharaja of Indore, India, by Allison Honer at the southeast corner of Heliotrope Drive and Santa Clara avenue, will look. Of frame and stucco construction, the "palace" that will house the Maharaja's five-year-old daughter and her friends will be surrounded by a masonry wall, and is reported to be one of a number of establishments in various parts of the world owned by the wealthy Hindu prince. The house will contain 12 rooms with a living room 25 by 32 feet, and bedrooms 13 by 25 feet. An 80 foot deck, enclosed with glass will be one of the unusual features of the house. Windows of the home will be of plate glass and will have cast iron grilles that will be ornamental as well as protective. Double floors will be installed in the house and these covered with sheet rubber. The house itself will cost $40,000, with an additional $10,000 being added in special features that will include a tile pool at the rear of the establishment.

Man Murdered In Hospital Bed

bed and wounded Mrs. Cornpross's mother, sister and a family friend.

One-Year Feud
The family feud began a year ago. Cornpross and his wife had a violent quarrel which ended with Cornpross shooting at her. Cornpross a few nights later attempted to reach a reconciliation with his wife.

She angrily refused him and he stabbed her. Cornpross was sentenced to jail for a year. While he was in prison his wife sought a divorce. She told police she feared for her life because her husband was jealous of her.

On the night of Nov. 21, Cornpross, newly released from prison, ambushed his wife, her sister, Betty and a family friend, Patrick Ryan, 26, when they arrived home from work. Mistaking Betty for Sue, Cornpross stabbed her in the breast and face.

Runs Amuck
Mrs. Anna Dally, 65, mother of Sue and Betty, heard the commotion and came downstairs. Cornpross also attacked and slashed Ryan.

Sue ran inside the house, obtaining a gun and shot Cornpross three times. Cornpross was recovering from those wounds in the hospital when Dally killed him.

Events of today's shooting began at 5:10 a. m. Patricia Hjort, night nurse in ward F of the hospital, got a call:

"How is Cornpross?" inquired the caller.

"He is all right," said the nurse. "He is asleep. Who shall I say called?"

"Just say a corpse called," said the voice.

Threatens Orderly
At 5:25 a. m. Dally broke into the hospital through the rear door and ran through the corridors. On the third floor he encountered Orderly Leonard Holmbeck. He pulled a pistol from his pocket and demanded:

"Show me where Cornpross is. Holmbeck resisted. Dally rammed the gun into the orderly's stomach.

Dally, cursing, ran to Ward and broke into Cornpross's room. Officer Salzbury was sitting along side Cornpross's bed, talking to Raoul Gilbert, another hospital prisoner. Salzbury, hearing the noise, came to the door.

"Throw down your gun and get out of my way or I'll blow your head off," Dally shouted. Salzbury reached for his gun and Dally fired. Salzbury fell with a bullet in his side.

Blasts Victim
Dally ran on past him to Cornpross's bedside. Just as Cornpross awoke, Cornpross struggled half out of bed and attempted to kick the gun from Dally's hand. Dally jumped back and fired three shots into Cornpross. Cornpross, now carrying six bullet wounds, staggered to the corridor and dropped dead.

Orderly Harold Heaney, 23, kicked Dally in the stomach. Orderly John Buscovitch, 23, took Dally's gun from him and hit him over the head with it. Dally crumpled.

Mrs. Cornpross and Wilson said they did not accompany Dally to the hospital but followed him there. They said they heard the shots and knew they were too late.

"I'm glad he's dead," Mrs. Cornpross said.

15-Year-Old Girl Held As Murderer

DENVER, Dec. 15.—(UP)—As officers prepared to file murder charges against her, Mary Wine, 15, her dry-eyed calm replaced by frightened pleading, sought today permission to attend the funeral of her father she allegedly shot and killed.

Refusing to sign a confession that she killed Max Wine, prohibition era racketeer, the high school girl said she "just wanted to see his face again."

"I can't believe daddy is dead. I didn't mean to shoot him. I just wanted to scare him. And a gun was the only thing I thought would scare him. I can't remember putting my finger on the trigger."

S. A. Teacher Sued For $25,480

Blair M. White, instructor in Julia Lathrop junior high school, Santa Ana, was named defendant today in a superior court suit for $25,480 damages, filed by Rose Ella Perrin, through Attorney Adrian Marks.

The action is based upon a traffic collision at Fourth and Garfield streets, Santa Ana, last August 10. Plaintiff alleges that she sustained injury to arms and legs, chest and kidneys.

OFFICIALS PREPARE SOCIAL SECURITY REPORT FOR FDR

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—(UP)—Officials today applied finishing touches to the report which the advisory council on social security will submit to President Roosevelt next week.

The council, composed of public, industrial and labor leaders, is expected to recommend that domestic servants and seamen, presently excluded from benefits of the act, be blanketed under its provisions. A proposal that agricultural workers be brought under the statute will not be recommended, however, it was said authoritatively.

Add 3 Million
Addition of seamen and servants to the classes of workers covered by the act would add about 3,000,000 persons to the total of 42,000,000 now covered by the act.

The council, headed by Prof. Douglas Brown, professor of political science at Princeton University, is not expected to recommend dissolution of the old age reserve funds authorized in the security act, but may recommend that its size be kept far below the $47,000,000 total contemplated in the act as it now stands.

The council's report will embrace 12 divisions, embodying its recommendations on President Roosevelt's suggestions for liberalizing the act.

Consider Pensions
The chief executive's major suggestions concerned feasibility of initiating pension payments at an earlier date than 1942. The council is expected to urge that payments begin in 1940.

Favorable recommendations were also expected on Mr. Roosevelt's suggestion that larger benefits be paid in the early years of the system, payments of small pensions to aged wives and widows, payments for support of children orphaned by the death of parents who die before the payment provisions of the act go into effect.

HIGH SCHOOL, JAYSEE GROUP TO PRESENT YULE PROGRAM

Sponsored by the city school system, high school and junior college students will present a group of Christmas selections in a broadcast from the top of the First National Bank, starting at 7 p. m. Saturday.

Three soloists from the high school, Charmene Carlson, Herbert Scott and Margaret Fields, will open the program with three selections. Marguerite McCarthy and Dick Brown will present a duet, "Angel of Light" and an ensemble from the voice class will sing two numbers. Zozella Escobar and Steve Fountain will give solo numbers.

With Three Selections
The Santa Ana high school choir, under the direction of H. G. Bickel, will conclude their part of the program with three selections.

From the junior college, four soloists will be presented. They are: Bruce Buell, Margaret Eisner, Ruth Alden and Horace Evans. The Treble Clef, a group of 12 women's voices, will sing "Ave Maria" by Bach-Gonno, and two Christmas carols.

The junior college trio, composed of Edna Walker, piano, Kenneth Aken, violin, and Jack Lighthart, cello, will also appear on the program.

ardson has custody of important records to be introduced. Paul D. Walker, F. P. Palmer and W. D. Frederick are the subpoenaed officers of the company.

Samish, key figure in earlier sessions of the grand jury, may turn over his income tax records for 1935, 1936 and 1937, as desired by Babcock, although he has fought through the courts to keep his tax data private. Both the third district court of appeal and the state supreme court refused his petition for a writ of prohibition against Babcock and the jury.

Quiz Senator
Samish has testified to receiving in excess of $140,000 annually from big business interests for public relations work, mostly in connection with the legislature. His latest questioning will concern his possible relation to the National Orange Show in San Bernardino and its increased state appropriations. Senator Swing and important officials of the exposition have been asked to be here for questioning.

A 1937 assembly interim committee on capital-labor which studied the Hollywood activities of the International Alliance of Theatrical and Stage Employees will be studied again by the jury. The movie technicians union is said to have paid $5,000 to Col. William H. Neblett of Los Angeles, one-time associate of Assembly Speaker William Moseley Jones. The committee, appointed by Jones, has never made a report on its findings and Neblett refused to tell the jury his reason for accepting the money. Silberman is one of two committee investigators who were cited for contempt for refusing to testify.

"When Ruth was a 'big shot' in the music world in 1927, said the Gimp, he and Miss Etting, who then was Mrs. Snyder, moved to New York.

"I married her in 1922," Snyder said. "I got her a lot of jobs. I was her business manager until 1936. I negotiated her contracts and did the fighting and she handled the money.

"I didn't know the value of money then and I don't know it to this day."

Loved Her
Giesler then asked him if his love for his wife continued throughout the 17 years they were married.

"Very much," Snyder shouted in a high-pitched voice.

He said that as far as he could determine Miss Etting's love for him was "strong."

Snyder shouted "never" when asked by Giesler whether he ever had struck his wife. Miss Etting testified Wednesday that Snyder beat, cursed, pinched and shoved her about during their married life.

Giesler asked him regarding battles with theatrical managers and agents as described in testimony by Miss Etting.

"Yeah! I had battles with them. They hated me. She was the 'Little Lady' and I was the so-and-so."

CHARGE WITHDRAWN
Ernest W. Danielson, 51, Finley hotel, was fined $15 yesterday when he pleaded guilty before City Judge J. G. Mitchell on a drunk charge. An assault and battery charge filed by Charles B. Wilson, 710 East Sixth street, against Danielson, was withdrawn. Wilson alleged Danielson insulted Mrs. Wilson and struck Wilson in the mouth. Owen D. Witt, transient, was given a 10-day suspended jail term and ordered to leave Santa Ana.

RUSSIANS VICTORS IN NIPPON DISPUTE

MOSCOW, Dec. 15. (UP)—Russia claimed a diplomatic victory over Japan today in a serious dispute over Japanese fishing concessions, due to expire December 31.

A foreign office communique asserted that Foreign Commissar Maxim Litvinov rejected a Japanese demand that Russia at once sign a long term fisheries agreement, even though Shigenori Togo, Japanese ambassador, had promised that Japan would guarantee payment for Russia's share of the Chinese eastern railroad if she did so.

Accepts Proposal
Togo had agreed to a proposal, which Litvinov previously made, that a temporary fisheries agreement be signed, it was said. Litvinov said Russia would sign even a temporary one-year agreement only if Japan paid the railroad installment on which Manchukuo defaulted.

Furthermore, Litvinov, despite Togo's protests, said that Russia would withdraw about 40 lots from the fishing areas previously allotted to Japan off the Siberian coast. Those 40 lots, Russia proposed to treat as closed, strategic areas. They are about one-tenth of the total allotted to Japan.

Togo protested that a Russian proposal to auction certain fishing lots to Japanese interests was a violation of Russia's own constitution, and must cause conflict and aggravation of Russian-Japanese relations. He protested also against the withdrawal of any lots from exploitation.

SYMPHONY CONCERT SET FOR TONIGHT

All is in readiness for another of the popular federal concerts to-night at the high school auditorium when gems from the music albums of Mendelssohn, Borodin and Wagner will be played by the symphony orchestra, under the baton of Leon Eklie, commencing at 8:15 p. m.

Adding further glamour to an outstanding instrumental program is the performance of a group of song classics by the federal chorus, directed by Dudley Page Harper.

Initial Performance
The advance seat sale points to a near-capacity house, project officials declared.

Borodin's Second Symphony in B-minor, the orchestral highlight, is being given its initial performance by the federal musicians.

"The symphony," said Eklie, "is pungent and wild, patently expressing with trumpet blasts, cymbal crashings and lusty, lumbering rhythms the pagan joy of the ancient Tartars and the savage life that spawned upon the steppes. We are playing the great score in response to request for music that is pre-eminently Russian."

The lyrical and picturesque overture to "A Midsummer Night's Dream," (Mendelssohn), opens the program which will be brought to a magnificent climax with the rendition of the overture to Wagner's Tannhauser with its glorious "Pilgrim's Chant."

Bride-Elect Is Shower Honoree
TUSTIN, Dec. 15.—Complimenting Miss Frances Whitaker, who leaves soon for Smithfield, Ill., to become the bride of Harold Taylor, was a miscellaneous bridal shower Monday night given by Mrs. Alvin Harris, herself a recent bride.

Appropriate games were played and many gifts were showered upon the honoree. Miss Myrtle Adams and Miss Lucille Walker were awarded prizes for high and low scores in contests.

The hostess served ice cream, cake and fruit punch to Mrs. Herbert Walker, the Misses Betty Edmonston, Pauline Crawford, Myrtle Adams, Muriel Hubbard, Mary Lucille Walker, Bertha Pallas, Martha Thompson and Frances Whitaker.

BIRTHDAY OBSERVED

Two Men Booked As Burglars

Robert J. Lillard, 22, 524½ South Flower, Santa Ana, and Leonard Doughty, 25, 124 Bonita street, Tustin, were booked at county jail yesterday on burglary charges following their arrest by Deputy Sheriff H. C. Kirkhart of the Irvine company, Santa Ana police and sheriff's officers.

The two are accused of entering an Irvine company packing shed and stealing tomatoes. Lillard was arrested here by Santa Ana Officers Harry Fink and Tom Kinney, Doughty at Culver road and Como station by Deputies Kirkhart and Ives Brown and Police Chief John Stanton, Tustin.

GUN IS STOLEN
A .32 caliber Colt automatic and flashlight were stolen from Leroy Walden, Laguna Beach, according to report of Newport Beach police to sheriff's officers late last night. The theft occurred from Walden's car, parked at the Santa Ana Country club on Newport boulevard, he said. The gun is numbered 88736.

The Carlsbad Caverns, N. M., have been the home of millions of bats for centuries, but white men did not know of the caves until the beginning of the present century.

Breakfasters Plan Yule Affair

Plans were concluded this morning at the regular meeting of the Santa Ana Breakfast club for the annual Christmas party of the organization. Eddie Marble, chairman of the committee, assisted by Hunter Leach and Ray Raymon, will be in charge of the affair.

Wives of members will be honored guests at the meeting and an exchange of gifts that will go to the crippled children of the community will be held.

First Woman On Wisconsin Job

MADISON, Wis. — (UP)—Mabel E. Griswold, a member of Gov. Philip F. La Follette's secretarial staff, has become the first woman industrial commissioner in Wisconsin history.

She was appointed to a vacancy on the three-member commission last month by La Follette, who was defeated in his bid for an unprecedented fourth term. She formerly was an aide to John J. Blaine through his career as attorney general, governor and U. S. senator.

The state industrial commission administers Wisconsin's pioneering workmen's compensation act, regulates physical safety of work places and supervises woman and child labor.

Start Work On Ancient Tree

DANVERS, Mass. — (UP)—Attempts are being made to save the life of the 305-year-old Governor Endicott pear tree, partly uprooted in New England's recent hurricane, from which most of the nation's pear trees are descended.

A few roots of the "ancestor tree" cling to the soil, lending hope to the possibility it could be saved.

MAY MOVE FIRE TRUCK
SAN CLEMENTE, Dec. 15.—At the regular meeting of city employees this week discussion was held on moving the fire apparatus from its present location to the unoccupied store next north of the police department, thereby bringing the fire truck upon the main street. Mayor Dan Mulhern, who was in San Francisco, made a quick trip home to attend the meeting.

SUSPECTS QUIZZED
Following report that Salome Navarro of Independencia colony was held up and robbed yesterday, Deputy Sheriffs William Trapp and Don Zaiser investigated, located two men but were unable to connect them with the alleged robbery. One of them, however, Ted Marquez, 21, Route 1, Anaheim, was arrested and jailed on a drunk charge.

DeMolay Chapter May Be Organized In Orange Soon

Tentative plans to form a De Molay chapter in Orange were made at a meeting of Royal Arch chapter of that city last night when a delegation of Santa Ana and Orange DeMolay members were guests at a round table which followed a regular meeting and election of officers for the chapter.

Officers for the Orange chapter were elected as follows: Ray Uecker, high priest; Ernest Gommel, king; C. B. Redmon, scribe; L. W. Thompson, secretary and E. C. Fobertson, treasurer. A closed installation will be held January 2 at the Orange Masonic hall.

Headed by Wheeler
The DeMolay delegation was headed by Roy Wheeler who made a short talk. If an Orange De Molay chapter is formed Sherman Gillogly will be sponsor, it was decided.

Speaker of the evening was Kellar E. Watson, Orange banker, who gave an interesting talk on a recent trip around the world. Watson told of many incidents of the four months' tour in company with Alfred Leech of that city.

IDENTIFICATION OF BODY LOOMS

The body of an elderly woman found on the beach at the end of 11th avenue, Huntington Beach, Tuesday morning, was tentatively identified today as that of Emily Kells, 1050 Magnolia avenue, Los Angeles.

Los Angeles police, cooperating with Huntington Beach officers, learned that a money order had been sent to a San Diego man. A stub of the money order was found in a purse near the death scene, the belief being that the purse belonged to the dead woman. The money order was directed to Queen Marie, San Diego, and was signed by Emily Kells, a checkup revealed.

Although Kells, contacted in San Diego, denied receiving the money order from Mrs. Kells, a further checkup showed that Emily Kells had been doing housework for the Percy B. Graves family, of Los Angeles, for the past 13 years and disappeared Monday. Authorities were informed. The Graves family probably will go to the Dixon funeral chapel, Huntington Beach, to try to identify the body. A description of the body answers the description of that of Mrs. Kells, the Graves' said.

NEW HOPE EXPRESSED IN SEAL CAMPAIGN AS GOAL NEARS END

With only 10 more days before Christmas left, the annual Christmas Seal sale has reached the 47.5 per cent mark in the goal of $10,000 set for 1938, it was announced today following a report made to directors of the Orange County Tuberculosis and Health association by Edna Hewitt Crawford, executive secretary.

The report by Mrs. Crawford's Ana, $1716.60, $3500; Seal Beach showed that $4750.60 has been raised so far in the sale of Christmas Seals in Orange county. She expressed hope that contributors would send in their seal money soon, so that prospects of reaching the $10,000 goal would be brighter.

Increase of $700
The $4750.60 received so far represents an increase of about $700 over the same time last year. However, the generosity of citizens of Orange county from now until Christmas time will spell either success or failure in reaching the goal for funds with which to stamp out tuberculosis, which killed 71 persons in Orange county last year.

The report by districts on the Christmas Seal sale follows, with the first figure representing the contribution so far and the second the goal for the community:

NOVA MAY GET TITLE BOUT IF HE BEATS FARR

BY HENRY SUPER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK.—When young Lou Nova of Alameda, Cal., steps into Madison Square Garden ring tomorrow to battle Welshman Tommy Farr, one of the most interested observers will be some 3000 miles away.

He is Max Baer, former heavyweight champion who hopes to become the first man ever to regain boxing's most prized crown. Baer, now in California, looked Farr earlier this year and figured he was a cinch to make his next start against Champion Joe Louis.

But Promoter Mike Jacobs, who controls the destinies of most heavyweights, decided today that Baer must fight once more before he gets another shot at Louis. Mike probably wants to make sure Baer's excellent showing against Farr the last time was no fluke.

Anell Hoffman, Baer's manager, speaking from California, said there would be no point in meeting Farr again. He has no objections, however, to Maxie's facing Nova.

While Baer listens to the fight on the radio, Louis will be at the ringside "scouting" what may turn out to be his next titular opponent.

Both fighters concluded heavy training yesterday and planned only light workouts today. Farr continued the favorite at odds ranging from 7 or 8 to 5. Tommy probably will scale 203 against 201 for the "Alameda Adonis."

Farr, who hasn't won a fight in this country in three starts against Louis, Baer and Jimmy Braddock, looked better than ever in training sessions. He says he wants nothing better than to dispose of Nova and get another shot at Baer.

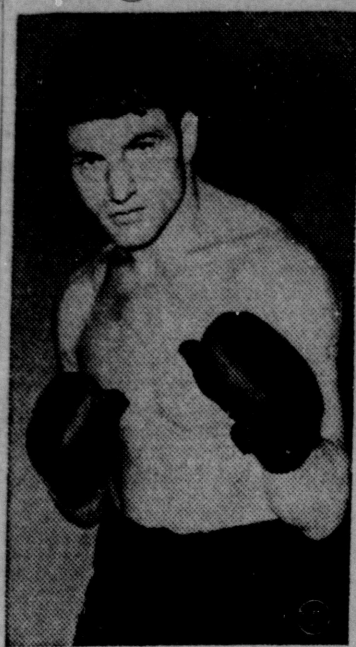

"Baer couldn't lick me again in a month of Sundays," Farr said. "He'd never fool me again with a left the way he did. I was paying too much attention to his right and he crossed me by nailing me with a left that caught me cold in the first round."

About Nova, a 23-year-old battler who's had only 26 fights, Farr had this to say:

"Not meaning to take anything away from him, I don't see how the young fellow is going to have much of a chance against me. He hasn't got a wallop like Baer, that can shake you up for a round or two, and he's going to be up against the best Tommy Farr in the matter of condition that's yet fought here."

A fourth, straight defeat would virtually mean the end of Farr's pugilistic career in this country.

Big Chance

Lou Nova, above, young Alameda heavyweight, may be Joe Louis' next major opponent if he beats Tommy Farr decisively in Madison Square Garden Friday night.

VERGEZ NAMED OAK MANAGER

OAKLAND. — (UP) — Johnny Vergez, newly-hired manager of the Oakland club of the Pacific Coast baseball league, said today he had "several plans" for revamping the Oaks for the 1939 season.

"Most of my ideas are in the formative stage," Vergez said. "I've always wanted to manage a ball club, and to manage my home town club is great."

Eight years ago Vergez was sold to the big leagues by the Oaks. He went to the New York Giants, to St. Louis, and in 1936 to Sacramento to manage Branch Rickey's farming system.

Vio Devenez, president of the Oaks, needed a manager, so he brought Vergez back.

RAIN CHECKS TROY; MORGAN INJURES KNEE

(By United Press)

LOS ANGELES.—The Trojans of Southern California, training for their Rose Bowl football game with Duke, enjoyed a day of rest today. They will resume practice tomorrow afternoon and hold a brief session Saturday morning.

The first rains since last spring halted their workout yesterday. But not before red-haired Halfback Boyd Morgan had injured his knee. Quarterback Grenville Lansdell was on the sick list with a cold and Oliver Day took charge on the field.

DUKE WORKS ON DEFENSE

DURHAM, N. C.—Coach Wallace Wade of Duke indicated today that his strong line and rugged defense would be the Blue Devils' main weapon for a Rose Bowl victory over Southern California.

For the third straight day, the Blue Devils yesterday worked on defense, with the strong freshman team trying to score on U. S. C. plays. Eric Tipton, star kicker of the unbeaten and unscathed on Dukes, was the standout player, running with power and elusiveness.

TECH USES IMITATION O'BRIEN

PITTSBURGH. — Carnegie Tech, training for its Sugar Bowl game against Texas Christian, is using an imitation Davey O'Brien to sharpen pass defense.

Little Pete Moroz, built along the same line as the Christians' All-America quarterback, worked with the Carnegie subs yesterday as the first team had its first scrimmage since resuming practice.

Moroz, though not used much in the recent season, has a style like O'Brien and he heaved passes in every direction to accustom the first stringers to what O'Brien is expected to do.

CHRISTIANS GO TO WORK

PORT WORTH, Tex. — Texas Christian begins practice today for its Sugar Bowl game against Carnegie Tech at New Orleans Jan. 2. The entire squad of the unbeaten and untied team was in top shape. Davey O'Brien, All-America quarterback, and Kl Aldrich, All-America center, had returned after receiving various honors coincidental with their selection on mythical "all" teams.

VOLS REPORT MONDAY

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. — Unbeaten and untied Tennessee gets down to serious work today for its Orange Bowl game at Miami against Oklahoma, another perfect record eleven.

George Cafego, star halfback, has recovered from a sprained back; broken hands of Halfback "Babe" Wood and Tackle Bob Woodruff have mended and a cut under Fullback Joe Wallen's eye was hardly noticeable.

OKLAHOMA COACH RETURNS

NORMAN, Okla. — Oklahoma, which meets Tennessee in the Orange Bowl, prepared to settle down to serious work today as Coach Tom Stidham returned to the campus.

Stidham had been to New Orleans to make arrangements for the Sooners to workout en route to Miami. The team went through a light practice.

MADIGAN TO 'BEAR DOWN'

MORAGA, Calif. — With the completion of final examinations tomorrow, the St. Mary's football team which plays Texas Tech in the Cotton Bowl Jan. 2, will go into intensive training.

Coach "Slip" Madigan announced he would "bear down" after he put Herbert Hoover ("Whitey") Smith, his fullback, on the scales today. Smith's weight had jumped from 196 to 216 since the squad broke training a month ago. Smith weighed 196 when he plunged over for the touchdown that beat Santa Clara 6-0 in the game that won St. Mary's the bowl bid.

SHELAFF, BOXING VICTIM, IS BURIED

SAN FRANCISCO. — (UP) — San Francisco's boxing fraternity turned out en masse today at the funeral services for young Andre Shelaef, idol of fight fans in the Orient, who died Tuesday of a cerebral hemorrhage after his fourth fight in America.

Although comparatively unknown here and appearing on a second rate boxing card the night preceding his death, Shelaef was not forgotten by his friends in the Orient.

Word was received from Leon Britton, Shanghai businessman and former New Yorker, authorizing funeral directors to bury Shelaef with the championship belt awarded him as Oriental middleweight champion.

Britton wired from Shanghai, where newspapers put black borders on their front pages when word of Shelaef's death was received, that he would supply a new belt for the next champion.

Shelaef was born in Shanghai of Russian parents. He was a game fighter who never backed away no matter how fast and hard the blows were coming.

On the eve of his 19th birthday, he died after losing a slugfest to George Salvadore, San Francisco 165-pounder.

WEST WINDS HERE AND THERE IN SPORT

OLIVER LAUDS JONES

"I can't understand," Mr. Tex Oliver was saying, "why Howard Jones is always referred to as a 'power coach.' Certainly, he uses power plays, but in addition I consider him the finest coach of forwards passers in the country."

The Red Sox swapped Outfielder Ben Chapman, a .340 hitter, to the Indians for Pitcher Deny Galehouse and Infielder Tommy Irwin, who shortstopped last season for the Milwaukee American association club.

With Chapman to play center field, the Indians are in a position to trade Earl Averill.

Present rumors send him to the Tigers for Pitcher Eldon Auker and Infielder Billy Rogell. If this deal can be made, or one similar, then the Tigers can swap Outfielder Pete Fox and Infielder Cecil Travis.

Meanwhile, officials of both leagues were consulting themselves on the most harmonious meeting in years as they went into joint session with Commissioner K. M. Landis. The following results have been achieved:

1.—A uniform baseball for both leagues.

2.—Agreement on new pitching rules designed to give the pitcher more latitude in his delivery.

3.—Night baseball in the American league for Cleveland and Philadelphia.

American League Opens April 18. The American league will open its regular season on April 18 and close it on Oct. 1. There will be a special game at Washington April 17 between the Senators and the New York Yankees—the game which the President always attends. The National league also decided on April 18 as its opening date. There will be a special game at Cincinnati April 17 between the Reds and the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The new baseball for 1939 will have the American league cover, 1-1000th of an inch thinner than the National league ball, and the National league stitches, five strands of thread, one more than the American league ball last year.

Under the new pitching rule, the pitcher will be permitted to start his windup with one foot behind the rubber instead of both feet on the mound as formerly.

Giants Capitulate

Opinion of most major leaguers was that within two years every major league club would be playing a limited number of night games.

The New York Giants, long opponents of night ball, at last have capitulated and will play night games on the road in 1939.

In the American league all clubs are expected to play night games at Cleveland and Philadelphia except Detroit, which for some unexplainable reason, has stated its opposition to the nocturnal pastime.

The Chicago Cubs paved the way for the acquisition of a player from the St. Louis Cardinals by selling Outfielder Jim Asbell to Houston and Outfielder Coaker Triplett to Columbus, both Card farms.

MUST HAVE SOMETHING

Jim Crowley is expected to shift Len Eshmont to right halfback on the Fordham varsity next year to make room for Jim Blumenstock, prize package of this year's freshman team.

Don's Face Pasadena In Chaffey Tourney

Cy Leivermann, who had been counted on to take his regular place at center on the Santa Ana jaysee basketball team against Pasadena tomorrow afternoon in the first round of the Chaffey Invitational tournament, was today declared out of competition indefinitely by Coach Bill Cook.

Leivermann's arm, which he cracked in football, was reinjured in a scrimmage game with T. J. Neal's "Y" league team in Andrews gym last night.

The Nealmen also reminded Don players and the scattering of fans present that the Santa Ana team has a lot of work ahead of it if it expects to be in the running for the Eastern conference championship.

The Neal defeat handed the Don's a 52-36 defeat. Coach Cook used almost every man on the squad at some time during the scrimmage. The reserves did a better job of holding the crack City league quintet than the Don regulars.

Henry Martinez, dead-eye forward hailing from Orange, was the only Don hitting the basket with any consistency, although Ted DeVillies, Don Borden, Russ Dearden and Elson turned in good performances for the reserves.

The Don's starting lineup against Pasadena probably will be Bob Schmidmeyer, center; Art Heinisch and Charles Hall, forwards; Lynn Arnet and Larry Monroy, guards.

GALEHOUSE AND TOMMY IRWIN JOIN RED SOX

BY GEORGE KIRKSEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK.—Frozen trading activities in the American league were thawed out today with a deal between the Cleveland Indians and the Boston Red Sox.

The Red Sox swapped Outfielder Ben Chapman, a .340 hitter, to the Indians for Pitcher Deny Galehouse and Infielder Tommy Irwin, who shortstopped last season for the Milwaukee American association club.

With Chapman to play center field, the Indians are in a position to trade Earl Averill.

His habit of swooping down on stray footballs is one of the many things that made Ki Aldrich the most popular choice for All-America center and caused the Chicago Cardinals to make the Texas Christian star the No. 1 selection in the professional draft.

AL'S WIN EASILY, TIE FOR 'Y' TITLE

In a flashy display of basketball, Al's Lock and Key shot smothered Treesweet Products, 54-28, last night to move into a tie with Irvine for the first-half championship of the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A. league.

Arrangements for a playoff between the Keyman and Irvine have not been made yet, according to Ralph Smalley, "Y" secretary. The teams may settle the first-half deadlock Monday night.

In the second game of last night's double header, Karl's Shoe store defeated the Barr Lumber company, 43-20. Ed Barris, sharpshooting forward for Karl's, dumped 26 points through the hoop.

Climaxing nine weeks of spirited competition, "Y" leaguers wind up their first-half schedule at 7:30 tonight with Southern Counties Gas company clashing with Elitiste's International Truckmen. The players will rest up during the holidays, resuming play after the first of the year.

Luisetti Gone; Card Basket Hopes Slump

By JAMES A. SULLIVAN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

SAN FRANCISCO — California and Stanford, members of the Southern division of the Pacific Coast basketball conference, will offer the best of the short of it on the basketball courts this winter, it was apparent today.

Coach "Nibs" Price at California is coming up with a team of six-foot-plus players, while Everett, hard put to find a man who measures up to six foot even.

Neither team, right now, appears of championship calibre, and it appears likely the pair will fight it out for second place in the Southern division, yielding the top spot to the U.S.C. Trojans of San Francisco.

That's going to be quite a come-down for Stanford, rulers of the Pacific coast for the last three years.

But the defending champions have lost Hank Luisetti, one of the greatest players of all time, and several other regulars. Only Phil Zonne, this year's captain, is left over from the 1937-38 first string forces.

Coach Dean, brought in from Indiana, when John Bunn was advanced to the post of dean of men, played his opening games, beating University of San Francisco and Fresno State, with a lineup that had only one man well over six feet in height. That was Dick Lyon, a guard. Zonne and Leon LaFalle, a forward, came close to that mark, while Derrill Huddleson, a forward, and Bob Burnett, a guard are considerably under the height generally accepted as the Western basketball standard. After Dec. 18, Don Burness, former San Francisco power star, and Ken Davidson become eligible for center and guard roles, respectively, adding to the height and the strength of the squad.

Dean has a difficult task ahead of him in matching Stanford's record of the last three years. It was likely he would not do it this year but that in the future his teams would become a power in the conference. He had great success at Indiana.

California would appear to be the stronger team of the two rivals.

Davey O'Brien, Everybody's All-American, will not consider professional football. . . . Texas Christian's mighty mite is a geologist at heart. . . . The study of petroleum, a rather valuable product of the southwest plains, is what he's most interested in.

No club has equaled the consistency of the Boston Bruins of the National Hockey league. . . . Starting in 1928, they have won the championship of their division seven times. Beginning that same winter, they finished first in their group four times straight, lapsed one season, and prevailed the next.

They wound up in front in Columbus last season. . . . But they have bagged the league championship and Stanley Cup only once in 1929. . . . being proverbially unlucky in the play-offs.

Marked up on the credit side of his 1938 bank account was $19,000 and the betting men had made him an almost prohibitive favorite—at $5 to 1—on first money of $2500 in this tournament. If he does he will have set a winning purse mark which may stand for all time—and that without having won any of the three biggest events for which he is eligible, the U. S. Open, the P. G. A. and the British Open.

Snead will need close co-operation from his ball to win this tournament with a 192-man field, embracing the entire Ryder Cup team and every important tournament winner of the year except two.

Howard can't be blamed for bargaining. . . . after the Biscuit, losing to Stagehand by a whisker while conceding the flying Sickle colt 30 pounds in the last Santa Anita.

OWNERS SHOPS FOR LOW WEIGHT ON BISCUIT

Charles S. Howard finally has learned his way around in racing after paying dearly. . . . the Seabiscuit twice losing the $100,000 Santa Anita by a nose. . . . Columbia S. C. is the Biscuit's strategic point until weights are announced for this spring's Santa Anita and $50,000 Widener Cup, each set for March 4. . . . And the Biscuit's burden likely will be lightened as the result of the bidding for him. . . . The son of Hard Tack will go where he sets the best deal.

"Hale acts as Dave O'Brien's bodyguard. Anybody who tries to get little Dave has to reckon with Hale."

Hale, All-Southwest tackle, and O'Brien came up from the same Dallas high school. They have been teammates for eight years.

"Aldrich is stronger offensively than was Darrell Lester," continues Meyer. "He covers a heap of territory on defense."

"Ki has a soothing way with him. Just seeing him bend over that ball sort of calms the rest of the boys. They know that he won't feed 'em a bad pass in the pinches."

"I've never seen a boy who likes to mix it in scrimmage better than old Ki, and down our way the kids eat, sleep and live football."

PLAY SOLID BEEFSTEAK BRAND OF FOOTBALL

Meyer warns those who have not seen Texas Christian not to expect a rodeo with footballs filling the air.

"This T.C.U. squad plays a solid, beefsteak brand of football, using a good running game to set up passes," he asserts. "Our air stuff bags a lot of touchdowns, but it's secondary to a powerful running attack. Passes won't go unless you can make the other guys tighten their defense. We pass just enough to keep the defense guessing."

"These kids of ours block, tackle, and charge in the old slambang style."

"They're football players, not a bunch of leather slinging artists. We go in for fundamentals, which may explain why our record over the years averages pretty high."

"O'Brien is some shakes at double-crossing opponents. He mixes up his stuff nicely. . . . sprey 'em and draws 'em in. The defense can't get set."

Meyer makes no bones about his line being pretty big.

"Looney, a crack 'em down type of end, weighs 194 pounds and can block a tackle as neatly as he can snag O'Brien's passes," concludes the coach. "Homer, our other end, comes in at 202."

TIPPY TACKER'S CHRISTMAS ADVENTURE

SNEAD PROHIBITIVE FAVORITE AT MIAMI

MIAMI, Fla. — (UP) — Sammy Snead, who talks Southern drawl to a golf ball and it usually obeys, started play in the initial round of the Miami Open championship today already classed by many experts as the equal of Bobby Jones 10 years ago.

Marked up on the credit side of his 1938 bank account was $19,000 and the betting men had made him an almost prohibitive favorite—at $5 to 1—on first money of $2500 in this tournament. he isn't because I saw him in his unforgettable victory over War Admiral, then he should win the Santa Anita and all the other big races he goes into while he is in top form. I don't see any sense in putting so much weight on a great horse that he is beaten by articles who only need horns and an appetite for tin cans to be perfectly at home in a family of goats.

Let's have an open race without weight. As a man who has carried around too much weight for years, I am in full sympathy with the poor horses who must suffer from the whims and dictates of a man in a swivel chair.

Gilly Campbell, Two Others Sold To Seattle

SEATTLE — (UP) — The Seattle baseball team of the Pacific Coast league today bought Catcher Morris Hanken from Toledo and Catcher Gilly Campbell from the Brooklyn Dodgers for $7500. Hanken played last season with Fort Worth.

Seattle officials also announced the purchase of Pitcher Bill Walker, southpaw, from the Sacramento Solons. Walker ranked 10th in effectiveness among hurlers in the Pacific Coast league last season with 17 wins and 12 losses in 31 games pitched.

Walker formerly pitched for the St. Louis Cardinals and the New York Giants. He was bought for an unannounced sum with part of the money Seattle obtained from the sale of Pitcher Freddie Hutchinson to Detroit.

PREDICT BRILLIANT CAREER FOR GORDON

NEW YORK — The star that will blaze brightest across the world of sports in 1939, in the opinion of the nation's sports editors, is young Joe Gordon, second baseman of the New York Yankees.

He got more votes than anybody else—43 per cent—as the answer to the question of who will be the athlete to show the greatest improvement in the new year.

Close behind with 12 per cent came Bob Feller, fireball pitcher for the Cleveland Indians. Bobby Riggs, chief hope of the United States in the international tennis was now that Don Budge has turned professional, finished in third place with 10 per cent.

Coming up with eight per cent of the votes was that familiar name, "Dizzy" Dean. Those voting for Dean predicted he would come back and have a great year with the Chicago Cubs after his arm has rested through the winter. Ben Hogan, promising young professional golfer, also received eight per cent.

The rest were scattered among: Van Mungo, Brooklyn pitcher; Bill de Correvont, the high school football sensation who will play in Northwestern's backfield next year; "Schoolboy" Rowe, Detroit pitcher who will try a comeback after a season in the minors; George Seeman, end of the University of Nebraska football team; Lou Gehrig, Yankees' first baseman; Len Eshmont, brilliant back on the Fordham football team; Sam Snead, professional golfer; Jeff Heath, Cleveland outfielder; Joe DiMaggio, Yankees' outfielder; Lou Nova, heavyweight boxer; Charles Fenske, mile runner; Paul Derringer, Cincinnati pitcher and Dick Seibert, Philadelphia Athletics' first baseman.

Hold Gift Exchange

A gift exchange was conducted by the hostess group and Mrs. Smith was presented with a white pottery vase by the section. After the luncheon Miss Gladys Welch of Weaver's Book store gave a demonstration of Christmas wrapping. Mrs. George Everett Peterson told of what is to be done in the garden at the present time. Mrs. A. H. Halleck gave instructions to be followed in learning to pronounce the names of flowers and plants.

Christmas Party Held By Students

ORANGE, Dec. 15.—The annual Christmas party of Die Froehlichen, a club of students of the German language at Orange Union High school, was held Tuesday night in the music room of the school, where a Christmas tree surrounded with gifts was the main decoration. Raymond Boese was program chairman for the evening and was introduced by Richard Osterloh, vice president.

German Christmas carols learned in the classroom were sung by those present, followed by the telling of the Christmas story from German Scriptures by Doramay Ellinghausen.

"O Holy Night" was sung in German after which Bernice Becher and Elsa Hink gave two Christmas poems. A one-act skit, "Christmas in Germany," was presented by Raymond Boese, Renata Cloeter and Violet Krueger. Elsa Hink, her sister, Freda Hink, and their uncle, Bula, played several musical selections on the piano, violin and accordion.

Gifts were distributed and the club presented Miss Hattie Nobbs, their advisor, with a large box of candy. German Christmas cookies and red apples were served at refreshment time. Special guests were Mrs. I. F. Oese and Miss Lorna Paulus.

Post, Auxiliary Arrange Party

ORANGE, Dec. 15.—At meetings of Otto Roszell post and its auxiliary held at the F. V. W. hall Tuesday night, plans were made for a joint Christmas party December 19. The post draped its charter in memory of the late Lieut. Col. Frank T. Duffy, department surgeon at Sawtelle, who, it was announced, is to be replaced by Charles L. Gavin of Livingston.

It was announced also that Wesley David, commander of the second district, made an official visit to the San Jacinto post last night. Visitors were James Sullivan, of Santa Ana; Harold Nieman, Ernest Hedawig and Bernie Messer, of Fullerton. Charles Grove presided.

Auxiliary members heard a report of a visit to the adopted veteran of the unit at Sawtelle given by Mrs. Erwin Seaton. Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Beck and Mr. and Mrs. Seaton visited the hospital recently. At the Christmas party children of members will exchange gifts and adults will bring presents of food for the needy. Visitors were Mesdames Anna Sullivan, Santa Ana; Harriet Hedawig and Clea Messer, Fullerton.

She was a native of Morning Sun, Ohio, and had lived in California for 35 years, coming here from Derby, Kans.

PARROT ON LIGHT

ORANGE, Dec. 15.—Residents of the 200 block on North Harwood street are quite accustomed to seeing blue birds, red birds and brown birds perched in trees in the yard, but when a bright green bird was seen fluttering from tree to tree they called police. The bird was a large parrot evidently taking a Christmas sightseeing trip.

Officers Chosen By Music Lovers

ORANGE, Dec. 15.—Added interest in the annual Christmas party for members of Trinity Episcopal church guild Tuesday was given by the election of officers with Mrs. Francis E. Smith chosen as president, Mrs. B. J. Morey, vice president; Mrs. H. H. Rathvon, secretary, and Mrs. W. C. Armstrong, treasurer. Election followed the report of the nominating committee given by the vicar, the Rev. H. F. Sortley.

Mrs. Minnie Whitney has been hostess at the annual event for many years. Each guest gave a Christmas quotation and a musical program with Mrs. W. C. Armstrong as accompanist was given by Miss Ethel Armstrong singing "The Birthday of a King," Miss Rochelle Softley, Luther's "Cradle Song," Miss Darlene Ashley "Ave Maria" as a violin solo. The trio sang "Christmas Chimes." Mrs. Smith read Wordsworth's "The Story of Three Kings."

ORANGE, Dec. 15.—Members of the "Los Sabios" club of Spanish students at Orange union high school were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Bunke Tuesday night when the annual Christmas party of the club was held. Arthur Bunke, the son of the home, was host to his classmates, who enjoyed an "evening of Spanish music and games."

The highlight was the traditional breaking of the pinata, which was placed outside under a large tree on the lawn. The pinata was decorated with ferns and flowers and honors for the breaking went to Robert Gist. The pinata committee was headed by Hector Terango. Inside the home, where a lighted tree and holly wreaths made a Christmas setting, Miss Janet Sutherland sang two Christmas carols in Spanish, "The First Noel" and "Holy Night." She was accompanied by Miss Barbara Nichols. Miss Ruth Compton was program chairman, assisted by Miss Leona Meyer at the games. Miss Dorothy Hawkins was awarded a prize.

Refreshments of ice cream and home made cookies were served by a committee headed by Miss Suzanne Huff. ## Jimmie Fidler In Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 15.—For an outstanding example of bad taste and selling under false pretense, I recommend an article in one of this month's fan magazines. Its title is "The Unmarried Husbands and Wives of Hollywood" and it is a 50-50 mixture of vicious innuendo and cowardly hedging. The writer hints at shocking immorality on the part of some of our greatest stars and, at the same time, fairly crawls under his typewriter in the effort to escape any liability for his gossiping. Quite obviously, it is an attempt to pander to the salacious side of Mr. and Mrs. Public's curiosity.

I don't believe in white-washing the moral peccadilloes of our few bad boys and girls—but neither do I believe that any Hollywood commentator has a special appointment from Providence to expose them. Certainly, some of our stars violate the moral code—just as some of the unpublishable citizens of Everytown.

'Good Will to Men,' Theme of S. A. 'Help Thy Neighbor' Week

An inspiring appeal to all Santa Anans to make the present holiday season one which truly will reach the "peace on earth, good will to men" desire, was made today by Mayor Fred C. Rowland in issuing a proclamation for "Help Thy Neighbor week."

The appeal calls upon everyone to bend every effort toward a drive to "make" jobs, however temporary, for those who need them, sometimes desperately.

"Particularly Needy" The proclamation, making the week beginning December 18 and ending December 25 "Help Thy Neighbor week," is as follows: "Whereas at this season of the year, thousands of our less fortunate neighbors are out of employment and therefore particularly needy,

"Whereas, we should bend every effort toward an 'end of the year' drive to 'make' jobs (however temporary) for those among us who are deserving, and

Plea For Observance "Whereas, we can all share our blessings by calling upon each other and our respective business houses, clubs, societies and private welfare organizations, to observe the week beginning December 18 and ending December 25, for this purpose, and

"Whereas, the Sunday 'Help Thy Neighbor' radio program through the good offices of Hal Styles, its conductor, has sent over 10,000 people to work, employing this premise, I, Fred C. Rowland, mayor of the city of Santa Ana, do officially proclaim the week beginning December 18 and ending December 25, 'Help Thy Neighbor Week,' and call upon the citizens of this community to cooperate by devising ways and means of putting the deserving to work so that they and their dependents will enjoy a greater measure of Christmas happiness. Signed: Fred C. Rowland."

'Unkissed Bride' Asks Annulment

She was only 15 years old and did not have parental consent when she married Marvin O. Drake in Los Angeles, August 30, 1936, Dorothy Drake declared today in a superior court suit for annulment, which disclosed that she was an unkissed bride. They separated at the altar, her complaint revealed.

FULLERTON LAWYER DEMANDS 'INTEREST'

Asserting that he was attorney for Mrs. Laura B. Resh, of Anaheim, when she obtained a court judgment against Henry Wichman for rent and refrigeration service, amounting to $1750, and when she later obtained judgment for $1827.85 plus $175 attorney fees, against W. H. Pillsbury, whose note had been assigned in payment of the first judgment, Attorney William L. Waters, of Fullerton, yesterday sued Edward Mills, guardian of Mrs. Resh, for a third interest in property acquired under the second court judgment.

He had been employed on the basis of receiving one-third of whatever was obtained, he stated. The property acquired by sheriff's deed, but still subject to redemption, consists of 20 acres and a lot in Anaheim.

Christmas Time Finds Beach City Child, 6, Homeless

There will be no Santa Claus for a six-year-old Sunset Beach girl this year, unless he wears the blue uniform of the law.

She is the daughter of John Gillyson, 42-year-old Sunset Beach man facing trial next Tuesday in Anaheim Justice court on charges of bilking a number of county garage-men by exchanging worthless checks for old batteries.

Mother Disappears The child was left homeless when her mother turned her over to a neighbor, and then disappeared, it was reported. The neighbor, herself the mother of two children, appeared before Justice Taylor Kuchel with her story. She is no longer able to care for the child, she told the judge.

Justice Kuchel was forced to advise her to turn the little girl over to juvenile authorities, who would see she was cared for.

Lawsuits Taken Under Advisement

Two lawsuits tried this week in superior court were taken under advisement by the respective judges after evidence had been completed. Judge G. K. Scovel took under consideration the $10,801 damage suit filed by Mrs. Merrybelle Hart of Laguna Beach, who sued the Mission theater at San Juan Capistrano because of an injury she received there.

Judge H. G. Ames has under advisement the $20,099 suit brought by O. U. Miracle, sewer contractor, against the Sunset Beach sanitary district. Miracle claims the amount is due as a balance on a 1936 contract.

P. E. TOLD OF FLOOD DANGERS

The Pacific Electric railway company was reminded that elevated tracks and trestle bridges are considered hazards in flood periods, in a resolution passed by the county supervisors at this week's meeting. When A. L. Wolfert, of Hansen, made a second appearance before the board to discuss past flood damage in that neighborhood, and future prospects for repetition of floods.

Located at Hansen A previous resolution of the board, urging that all piling trestles be replaced by steel span bridges, brought a reply from the Pacific Electric company that its bridge at Hansen station had not been responsible for floods in that penditure of more than $60,000 for area last March; also that the extra steel span bridge would be wasted, as flood danger soon will be eliminated by Prado dam.

Wolfert appeared this week, described how Hansen is situated along the old course of the Santa Ana river, and that the P. E.'s raised track bed and bridge are a menace. The railroad has failed to place culverts in natural water channels, he said. The board then adopted the second resolution.

PASTOR TALKS AT P.-T. A. MEETING

Unique Book Tea Given
Setting in Library
At College

Inviting 100 or more guests to a book tea on holiday theme Tuesday afternoon, Miss Lillian L. Dickson and Miss Muriel Anderson of the Junior College library were hostesses at a unique affair which had its setting in the library quarters.

Designed as books, the clever invitations were titled "A Christmas Book Tea." Named as the authors were the two hostesses, with $3.00 to $5.00 each as the price for the pleasant hospitality. Prefaces of the comprehensive invitations included the hostesses' acknowledgments to various assistants. Prominent among these were Robert L. Brown of Santa Ana Book store, who had arranged a display of best sellers and other books; City Superintendent of Schools Frank L. Henderson, and the board of education; Director D. K. Hammond and others of the college faculty.

One of the latest creations of Thomas Williams and the Fine Arts Press, "Seven Questions of Timor," with some of the original drawings, were on display.

Hibiscus, red tapers and silver service added to the charm of the tea table, at which Mrs. Frank Henderson, Dr. Margaret Baker, Mrs. Hammond and Mrs. Robert Northcross officiated during the afternoon. Coed assistants in the library were their aides in serving the tea dainties.

Guests included faculty members and their wives or husbands; board of education members and their wives or husbands, with the college administration; Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Crawford, County Superintendent of Schools and Mrs. Ray Adkinson, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Henderson, Miss Ethel Walker of the Public Library; Mrs. Carmel Zimmerman of the county library; school librarians and a number of other friends.

Birthday Honors Paid
Mrs. Abbott On
Ninetieth Anniversary

Ninety years of serene and graceful life are seen in retrospect by Mrs. Lottie Abbott, 1820 Bay street, and her entrance into the decade of the nineties was given happy recognition Tuesday, by one of her neighbors, Mrs. E. S. O'Brien, who celebrated the event with a birthday luncheon held at Swansons.

One of the private dining rooms was reserved for the party, and was given the charm of the Yuletide season by its attractive decorations. When the dessert course was reached, a big birthday cake, baked and decorated by Miss Blanche Remsberger, was placed before the guest of honor.

Mrs. O'Brien's guests included with Mrs. Abbott, the latter's daughter, Miss Glenna Abbott, Miss Ada O'Brien, Miss Katherine Shaw, Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Rairdon, Mr. and Mrs. John Flack, Mesdames Jay C. Hamill, Anna Remsberger and Abbie Ondros.

Many other friends called during the afternoon which was spent at the Abbott home. Impromptu program features included appropriate readings by Mrs. Flack, a solo by Mrs. C. E. Smith with Mrs. Hamill as accompanist, and duet numbers by Mrs. Smith and Mrs. W. A. Chapman.

Friends from Calvary church were among the many callers, one group bringing a big cake whose inscription included Mrs. Abbott's name and age; another group bearing a potted plant, and many friends with additional gifts and birthday cards. There were cards also from Mrs. Abbott's former home state of Wisconsin, and from points all over the world.

Gifts Are Exchanged
At Evening Party

Brilliant with scarlet and green

festoons and a lighted Christmas tree, the Elmer Thompson home, 717 South Lyon street, was setting Tuesday night for that friendly holiday party with which Mrs. Thompson, one of the Rankin store buyers, annually complements the members of her first floor department.

It was a typical Yuletide event, with gifts exchanged among the guests, and presentation to each of exquisite lingerie from Mrs. Thompson. The game of Trippi yielded additional gift packages, won by Miss Doris Lorraine Faupel and Mrs. Marian Hill.

Mrs. Thompson centered the linenspread card tables with miniature Christmas trees for serving ice cream molds with cake, coffee and nuts to conclude a happy evening. Her guests were Mesdames Donna Hill, Eleanor Morrison, Lucille McCado, Helen Jobst, Clarice Wacker, Ruth Giden, Marian Hill, Lydia Skillman, Jeannette Nelson, Jane Yoder, Ethel Hedrick, Ella Faupel, Evelyn Atwood, the Mesdames Margaret Bowen, Dorothy Akers, Doris Lorraine Faupel, Evelyn Scherbert, Marian Johnson, etc.

While all previous meetings of the group have been impromptu, future parties will come once each month, progressing through the list alphabetically. Mrs. Harold Baker, 407 South Garnsey street, will be January hostess, and January birthdays will be celebrated.

Mrs. Dunlap assisted the hostesses in arranging small tables with scarlet candle centerpieces for serving refreshments, an interval introduced with carol singing.

In the party were Mesdames Louis Cook, William Heger, William Knight, Frederick Schrock, Harold Baker, the Mesdames Marjorie Burton, Edith Wilde, Gladys Sise, Bernadine Helberg, Helen Olson, Mary Schrock and Ruth Dunlap.

Shower Honoree Given
Layette Gifts

Mrs. Charles Woodfill was incentive for a pleasant hospitality Monday night when her sister and niece, Mrs. Lee Buck and Mrs. Robert Bromell were co-hostesses in Mrs. Buck's home, 311 Lowell street.

Miss Floretta Harman and Mrs. Walter Stark won prizes in a contest which stressed the layette theme of the evening. Gifts piled high in a bassinet were presented to Mrs. Woodfill. Pink and white ice cream and cakes were served at tables lighted with pink tapers in crystal holders.

Musical Arts Members Take Part In Festive Celebration

It was real holiday festivity which Musical Arts club members and guests shared Tuesday night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Don Moxley, 122 West Eighteenth street, where gaiety of the season was expressed in various entertaining features.

Mrs. Thomas Willets, president, was in charge of the meeting, introducing Mr. Eisner of Long Beach Musical Arts club as one of the special guests. Group singing of Christmas carols was an opening feature for which Mrs. Leslie Steffensen was at the piano, with Mrs. Emil Wagner as leader.

Mrs. Jay Hamill and Mrs. Harry Brackett of the social committee were responsible for the various features introduced. Mrs. Brackett soon had preparations under way for the "Musical Arts Edition," a newspaper which was edited, sent to press and read all in one hilarious interval. Miss Marilyn Hamill read from "The Birds' Christmas Carol" by Kate Douglas Wiggin.

Mrs. Nelson Visel instigated a stunt program for which the membership was divided into three groups. The well known carol, "Deck and Hall" was interpreted first, as it might be sung by the Metropolitan Opera company, with Mrs. Charles Nalle as soloist. Secondly, the song was offered as it might be sung on the sidewalks of New York; and thirdly, in modern jazz band style.

For the distribution of Christmas gifts from a gay, illuminated tree, Mac O. Robbins served as Santa Claus. Then as guests gathered around the wassail bowl, they enjoyed sipping the old English beverage while munching home-made cookies.

Announcement was made that the next regular meeting of Musical Arts club will be held Tuesday noon at Dantgers.

Club Members Show True Christmas Spirit

Mrs. Osborn had assistance from a hostess group composed of Mesdames Alice Scheel, R. O. Smith, Gertrude Smith and R. C. Huber. They served a desert course which harmonized with the Yuletide theme.

Officers elected for the new year were Mrs. Gertrude McMaster, president; Mrs. Hugh Osborn, vice president; Miss Marian Walker, secretary and Mrs. Harvey Groover, treasurer. Following election, the group showered birthday gifts on the club teacher, Miss Ruth Bartlett, who received among other things, a decorated cake sprinkling with red candles.

Smith, Mrs. Gertrude Smith and Mrs. Huber, were the Misses Ruth Bartlett, Pauline Parsons, Marion Walker, Emma Corson, Mesdames Gladys E. Brown, Jo Lowell, Maude Bauman, H. C. Foss, C. E. Cook, E. B. They served cranberry shortcakes at tables lighted by red tapers rising from scarlet apple holders. Adding to the charm of the party setting was a Christmas tree in one corner of the room.

Bridge play progressed with special success for Mrs. Hubert Gohres and Miss Mary Tutthill, who held the two highest scores.

Sorority Group Enjoys Dinner Party And Gift Exchange

All joining in plans for a holiday dinner party with fried chicken as one of its luscious features, Sigma Tau Psi members were entertained Tuesday night in the Costa Mesa home of Miss Lois Hunter, one of their new members.

Lovely as were the winter scenes and the Yule decorations of the home, interest centered in the amusing "Ferdinand" which the hostess placed so advantageously amidst the Christmas wreaths. Dinner was served buffet style, with Mrs. William E. Hunter assisting her daughter in hostess duties. A gift exchange around the sparkling tree was high-light of after-dinner hours, and offered opportunity for the sorority members to surprise their president, Mrs. Terry Stephenson Jr., with a beautiful gift.

In the party with Miss Hunter and the chapter president, Mrs. Stephenson, were the Misses Wil-

Mixing Bowl By ANN MEREDITH

This wonderful chocolate cake would be fine for the holidays, especially if you have boys or girls away at school, so do clip and save this recipe and use it Christmas week.

Chocolate Mocha Cake
1-2 cup shortening (butter or vegetable fat)
2 cups brown sugar
1 cup hot coffee
2 egg yolks and 1 whole egg
3 squares of baker's chocolate, shaved fine
1-2 teaspoon soda
2 cups cake flour, measured after sifting
1 teaspoon baking powder and 1-8 teaspoon salt sifted twice with flour
1 tablespoon vanilla.

The first step in making the cake is to add shaved chocolate to hot coffee, stir until melted, then cool. Add soda to coffee mixture when it has cooled.

Thoroughly cream fat and sugar. Add beaten egg and yolks and whip until frothy.

Alternate flour and the coffee mixture in making the batter. Beat to oily smoothness, add vanilla, and bake in three 8-inch cake tins, the oven moderate and time about 20 minutes.

Put the cake together with a fluffy boiled frosting, using the two egg whites that did not get into the cake. Flavor the icing with peppermint, that delectable combination with chocolate.

This fine cake is an example of a contribution in exchange for the caloric list with its new addition: alcoholic beverages. Contribute anything you think will interest other readers, send with a stamped, self-addressed envelope, and the list will be mailed at once.

TODAY'S RECIPES
Halibut a la Creole

I
2 cups canned tomatoes
1 large onion and 1-2 green pepper, ground with 1-2 cup celery
1 clove of garlic, minced
Salt, pepper and cayenne to taste
3 tablespoons butter

II
2 pounds or more halibut in solid piece.
The sauce is the familiar Spanish sauce used for omelettes and dishes requiring a hot flavorful sauce.

Put all ingredients into a saucepan with the butter and simmer until thick and smooth.

Wash and wipe the halibut. Place in a casserole, pour sauce over fish and bake in a medium hot oven until the fish will flake apart when explored with a fork (about 45 minutes baking). Serve from the casserole.

Pancakes of Squash or Parsnips
1 heaping cup of dry mashed vegetable
1 heaping tablespoon, each, butter and flour
1 egg beaten with
1-4 teaspoon baking powder and 1 tablespoon cream
Salt and pepper.

Blend all ingredients smoothly. Have an iron skillet very hot and well greased with bacon fat. Fry in small cakes and serve with the baked fish.

Utilize oven heat in making the dessert: Core red apples, making the hole extra large to accommodate the stuffing of mince meat. Put 1-2 cup of sweetened water or sweet pickle syrup in pan with apples.

LABORATORY AS A GUIDE

It is characteristic of General Motors' slow spoken, inventor-industrialist Charles Kettering that he should urge the patient accuracy of the laboratory as a guide to co-operative action by business and government.

Appearing before the government committee inquiring into the economic organism of the country, Mr. Kettering said:

"If we could only have an invention congress or conference here in which we had business men and economists and representatives of government, and could sit down and say, 'Now, what are the most probable things that we can do?'"

"Remember, some of the most important things you can't do in a hurry. It takes a long while. We have had men at work for fifteen years on some problems, and we haven't the solution to the thing yet."

This is indeed a leavening admixture in the governmental recipe for combining to best advantage the contributions of government, business and labor to the economic whole.

MORE "FIRE BRICKS"

With public interest brought to focus by proclamations issued by President Roosevelt, thirty-seven governors and many municipal officials, citing the importance of Fire Prevention Week last month, people are at last awakening to the dollar and cents value of curtailing fire losses. Genuine enthusiasm is evident in the campaigns for safety, waged by communities in all sections.

Some idea of the great interest and co-operation in the effort to prevent fires may be gained from a summary of the quantities of literature requested of just one public service organization—the fire underwriters.

A total of 221,000 posters and 1,500,000 stickers were put to work in areas from coast to coast. Fire chiefs endeavored to have ever home inspected, as well as other buildings. To this end, 227,000 self-inspection blanks for homes, mercantile and industrial establishments were utilized. Distribution of various leaflets and text books totaled 450,000, including 30,000 playlets requested by schools. The metropolitan newspapers, and thousands of small town papers aided by using news and editorial matter.

Most encouraging among all the fire reports of successful activities is the expressed intention of most communities to continue Fire Prevention as a year-round activity.

FRAUD AND DELUSION

Twenty-two cities in the state of Tennessee have purchased private electric distributing systems, in order to use TVA power. The "savings" over the former rate charged, it is announced, will be passed on to the consumer. Twenty-two more private tax-paying enterprises have been put out of business in the drive toward socialism.

"The estimated 'savings' are placed at $300,000 per annum," says the Wall Street Journal. "Prorating this over twenty-two units gives an average of nearly $14,000 per unit. It would be interesting to know what the taxes of private companies in these units have been at the latest available computation."

"This question is an important factor in the whole matter of public versus private operation of electric power. The taxes paid last year by the industry were close to one-half of the total revenue from domestic consumers of power. They totaled some $330,000,000, as against a domestic consumer bill of about $700,000,000. If the industry were turned over to public operation this contribution to the public treasuries would disappear. At the present it amounts to the handsome percentage of about 16 cents on each dollar of gross revenues."

If past precedent in many socialization schemes is any criterion to go by, the Tennessee cities will find that the anticipated "savings" are a fraud and a delusion—and that the increase in the tax burden due to socialization, will be a financial cancer sapling local assessment rolls from now on.

The citizens of those twenty-two Tennessee cities had clearly realize that in actuality they are now supporters of the political system known as socialism wherein industry is owned and operated by government. The business man who is fortunate enough to have his own enterprise should not blind himself to the fact that a public-owned electric industry is only the forerunner of public ownership in other lines.

One cannot escape the conclusion that for a few pennies per individual the people of twenty-two communities have sold the principle of private enterprise (their own individual right) down the river. Did they realize what they were doing?

WHAT THE FARM VOTE MEANS
(N. Y. Times)

Several points must be kept in mind in connection with the vote of cotton, tobacco and rice growers regarding the imposition of quotas for their respective crops. In the first place, the referendum do not, as Secretary Wallace seems to think, provide a "clear-cut example of economic democracy." Those eligible to vote in these referenda were only the producers of the three crops. They did not include the consumers who would have to pay any higher price that might result from a restriction program, and who outnumber the producers by more than twelve to one. Would Mr. Wallace consider it a clear-cut example of economic democracy if such a one-sided ballot were applied for the benefit of the producers of steel or overcoats or shoes?

In the second place, there are no convincing grounds for supposing, with Mr. Evans, the Agriculture Adjustment Administrator, that the referendum results "show clearly that cotton farmers believe in the present farm law and want it continued." The cotton growers were not voting on the acreage-restriction program, which would have gone into effect in any case. They were voting simply on the question of whether marketing quotas were to be imposed. Without marketing quotas the growers who restrict acreage would receive bounties and other benefits for doing so, while the growers who did not restrict acreage would be deprived of these bounties.

Sharing The Comforts Of Life

HISTORY OF THE EFFECTS OF COMPETITION VERSUS GOVERNMENT INTERFERENCE

A correspondent takes me to task for advocating the approach to free competition as existed between 1868 and 1913. He says then, "the oil well drillers were getting $4 a day for 12 hours; that automobiles were luxuries not to be thought of by the working man; that bath tubs and telephones were ditto."

I am very glad to have people take exception to any statement that I may make and I believe this contributor has about the same idea of how progress is made and living conditions are improved as the great majority of college professors. So, if I take exception to his contention, he need not feel that it is personal or that he is different from most people in their beliefs.

I believe a discussion of these things is the only possible way whereby we can bring about public opinion that will permit a return to principles which will make a constantly increasing wage possible.

The contributor seems to conclude that I advocated returning to the standard of living existing between 1868 and 1913. I certainly did not want to leave that impression. All I was advocating was that we return to the principles governing that period and I mentioned that period because, in 1868, we passed the Fourteenth Amendment that prevented the state from confiscating the property of the citizen without due process of law and in 1913 we passed the income tax law that permitted the government to confiscate a man's income and give him nothing in return.

The contributor failed to say what the wages were in 1868, or the beginning of this period, as compared with what they were in 1913, at the end of the period. I have before me a table issued by Pearson & Warren, Cornell University, on the per capita physical volume of production in the United States. This table shows that the amount of production per worker, not measured in dollars but measured in tons, pounds and yards, as compared with a standard of 1926-1930 as 100, gives this production in 1868 as 38.71. At the end of this period, in 1913, this production per worker had increased to 88.52 per cent.

This means that the amount that each worker produced in that period, measured in tons, yards and bushels, increased by 128 per cent. Since the workers as a whole cannot long be paid more than they produce, it is evident, therefore, that the living standards of the workers in 1913, at the end of this period as compared with what they were in 1868, was greatly increased. And this was the period in which the government did less interfering with private enterprise, as far as production was concerned, than in any other period.

This does not mean that the government should not have used its policing powers during this period in preventing fraud.

Now, since 1913, since the government began to confiscate a man's property because he produced, the physical volume of production per capita reached its highest point in 1928. And this was 103.09, as compared with 95.43, 15 years earlier. Thus, the physical volume of production per person increased in 15 years, after the government began to interfere, by only eight per cent, or only one-half per cent a year, compared with 2.8 per cent a year for the 44-year period ending in 1913. In other words, the amount each worker produced, increased over five times as fast during that period as it did from 1913 up until the peak. And there certainly was a reason for this difference in increase.

But when we go beyond 1928, we find that the last available figures on this chart was in 1933, which was only 65.94 per cent of what they were in the period of 1926-1930. So the actual production per capita, measured in tons, yards and bushels, is less in 1933, the last available figures, than it was when we started this excessive government interference in 1913.

To me, it is impossible to conceive that the workers as a whole can continue to receive a higher and higher real wage—standard of living—unless each worker produces more.

The point that I am contending is that if the government had not interfered by a discriminatory taxing system, by a bad banking system, both established in 1913, and by the amendment to the Sherman Anti-Trust Law, which permitted certain combinations for restraint of trade without violating the Sherman Anti-Trust Law, this rate of production per worker would have continued, and that the workers as a whole now would be getting much higher wages than they are at present.

When it is remembered that labor is now getting 84 per cent of what is being produced, it is impossible to believe that even if it took all that was produced the great mass of farmers and unorganized labor could have their wages raised to even as much as they actually were, in 1913, by any law or by any collective bargaining theory. Wealth has to be produced before it can be paid out in wages. Because some workers are now getting $12 a day for eight hours and other workers are getting 50c to $1 a day picking cotton or working on the farm, is no proof that wages as a whole have made any increase since 1913. And it is evidently true that every invention and every accumulation of knowledge and science should make it possible for not only a few workers to receive more than they did in 1913 but if the government had not interfered so seriously with free enterprise all workers should be receiving a great deal more than they did in 1913.

No, I was not advocating going back to the same living conditions. I was advocating going back to the same principles of right and wrong, to the same principles of free enterprise, the same principles of the philosophy of Christianity, the same principles of true democracy that permitted the greatest increase in wages for all the workers (not for part of the workers) that ever occurred in any country in any time in all history, from 1868 to 1913.

With marketing quotas, the growers who do not restrict acreage are not merely deprived of bounties, but penalized.

With cotton, the bounty itself would seem to be enough to insure restriction. "Cooperating" growers will receive benefits of between 3.6 and 3.8 cents a pound, while the present price of around 8 cents is a bonus of 45 per cent. They are asked to reduce their acreage, on the other hand from a normal of about 40,000,000 acres to 72,500,000, reduction of about 20 per cent. The individual farmer, in short, stands to be better off on a cash basis at the present price of cotton under the acreage-restriction program even if he does not expect that program to increase the price of cotton next year at all. When, in addition, a penalty of 3 cents a pound is placed on any cotton marketed above the acreage-restriction total, complete conformity seems certain. The quota system, in short, serves mainly to take advantage of the bounties paid for restricting acreage. The farmers were asked to vote on this alone, and not on their attitude toward the whole agricultural program.

Editor "Sharing Comforts":

Your answer to the undersigned was most welcome, and we did agree on a few basic points, but I still have a few statements and questions that I wish to present.

You take exception to my statement that consumption entirely governs production and stipulate that—"But we have no trouble at all to get people to consume. That is not the problem. It is to get those people who desire to consume to produce something other than want and are willing to trade to get."

I think you have two very definite statements combined where they should be treated separately. The first sentence is not true to my way of reasoning, and the last one is true.

If we have no trouble getting people to consume, why the depression today? It is the ability of consumption of the nation or world, as a whole, that sets the standard of living for that nation or this world. Our consumption powers today cover mainly the bare necessities of life—clothing, food, shelter—and these, as a whole, are not of the most desirable standard. I will admit that the desire to consume is never absent, but the power of consumption is very definitely lacking at times.

The willingness to produce or work on the part of some 20 million people today reveals the fact that their desire for consumption is present, yet they very clearly cannot purchase over a large field of industry. They are unemployed. Can you say that our trouble does not come in getting them to consume? I agree with you when you say that they must produce to consume, yet we have the machinery, materials, and desire to work, and they are not permitted to produce. It is toward the end that ALL capable persons may produce steadily that we must face. When they are steadily producing to their capacity, they should receive their just share of reward and compensation. Those that have special capabilities should receive a little more for their services, but not an exorbitant reward, as is the practice today. The man doesn't live whose services are worth a million dollars a year, or a half million a year, or a quarter million either.

You may say that now you are cutting down on capital. I don't think so. We would be cutting down a fictitious worth of the services of that individual, and the excess over his worth might well be distributed partially to capital and partially to labor, or contributed to the reduction of the price of the article or product created. This action is something that the nature of man will oppose. We have individuals today who are worth billions and control entirely the operations of literally all our corporations, and still they fight madly for more power and wealth. What do they expect to gain in the end and what would they do with it if they got all of it? They can't consume it all, but they withhold it from those that created it for them. I think they are bringing about their own downfall as well as their fellow citizens.

We can't get away from the fact that our society today makes each one of us more and more dependent on the welfare of our neighbor, and as crude as it may sound, the removal of the individuals who interfere with our welfare should certainly take place. As painlessly as possible, of course. Which is to be desired: The welfare of a hundred and thirty people or the welfare of a hundred and thirty million?

I shall continue this in an early issue, but one question to Mr. Hoiles: Do you believe that the time is coming when our mechanical production capacity will replace the members of the city council elected. The council appoints the manager who in turn appoints all department heads and other administrative employees. Thus is authority concentrated and responsibility fixed. "Buck passing" is out.

The question arises, "Will not this result in autocratic government by the manager instead of democratic government?" Quite the contrary. Democracy is secured by controlling public officers, not necessarily by electing them and that way is most democratic which gives the people the surest control. The council, elected by the people, have the power to employ the manager, to keep a check on what he is doing, and to fire him any time he is unsatisfactory.

Why does the city manager form work better than other forms of local government? Because it remedies the defects that experience with these other forms has shown up; it insures capable executives in the public's business; it eliminates the spoils system and centralizes responsibility.

Competition between cities is becoming keener and no city can afford to operate under a plan that is wasteful and expensive while others are being run with the highest degree of efficiency and economy. We are all impressed by that fact during this period of paying taxes.

Santa Ana can well afford to follow the example of Alameda, Bakersfield, Long Beach, Oakland, Pasadena, Sacramento, San Diego, San Jose, Stockton and the other California cities which have adopted this modern and American plan of government.

C. G. ROSEBERRY.

Fellow Citizens:

The good news of our mass meeting is at hand and every person who pays a water bill should be on hand Thursday night, at the Townsend hall, 131 S. Glassell, Orange, at 7:30 p. m.

Don't forget the date and tell everyone you see about it, so they will have a chance to voice their opinion.

It seems that our city council has so many executive meetings. Just what are they, and what are they for? It also seems that the stories just don't hold up with each other.

In the Santa Ana Register of October 15th, we read: "Mayor Police stated that all meetings of the Orange city council were open to all who cared to attend." But they did their business at a closed meeting of that date. They said the same paper on December 7th, said: "Whatever business the Orange city council may have transacted last night remained undisclosed to the public, as an executive session occupied most of the evening, and nothing of importance was done in the brief open session."

Now I am asking the citizens who are paying 100 per cent raise in their water taxes (I think you can call it by that name). It really amounts to that anyway. You know taxes, taxes, taxes. That is about all we get now. Don't you think that it is about time to make a change in two or three of our councilmen? I would suggest a recall now.

So be sure and come out Thursday night, 7:30 p. m. at the Townsend hall, 131 S. Glassell.

CITY MANAGER GOVERNMENT FOR SANTA ANA

Fellow Citizens:

Advocates of the city manager form of government for Santa Ana contend that under that plan we shall enjoy more efficient administration at a substantial saving to the taxpayers. Such an assertion does not carry with it a criticism of the men who comprise the present governing body. It is the form and set-up that are faulty.

Approximately 450 American cities are operating under the manager plan including 30 in California. Four out of five cities which draw up new charters these days adopt the city manager plan. It has become known as the typically American plan of city government and is America's principal contribution to the science of local government.

It is at once the most democratic and the most efficient form of municipal government. It closely resembles the organization under which most up-to-date corporations operate. The stockholders (voters) choose a board of directors (city council) to determine policy and to hire a general manager to run the business.

The Tennessee Bubble

By GUS W. DYER

Professor of Economics and Sociology, Vanderbilt University

Will the TVA turn out to be a third great economic "Bubble"? The South Sea Bubble and the Mississippi Bubble of the 18th century are familiar to those who know economic history.

The inconsistencies of the TVA will make it difficult for historians to interpret it. The sole purpose of the Tennessee Valley enterprise, as stated in the law under which it was promoted, is to improve navigation and production of power.

Notwithstanding the above facts, and notwithstanding the growing tax rate, and the rapid increase in the national debt, the Administration is sinking an investment of $310,000,000 in the Tennessee Valley to improve river navigation for which there is no demand, and control occasional floods by creating permanent floods.

When we turn from the stated objective of the TVA, and from the authority given those directing the movement, we discover activities that are startling in their nature, because they seem to have no connection with the purposes and objectives stated in the law. According to an estimate made by a competent authority, the amount allotted to flood control is $81,133,600, to navigation, $91,800,000, and to power production, $332,296,327. Power production as an objective isn't even mentioned in the law.

Whatever the explanation may be, the facts prove that the production and sale of electricity is the chief purpose of those in charge of the half billion dollar enterprise. The hope of reconciling the real purpose of the TVA with the purpose stated in the law under which it operates seems to be based on the assumption that the members of the Supreme Court are more ignorant and have less knowledge of what is going on than the average man in the street. If the lawyers are successful in this, a guardian will have to be appointed for the "Nine Old Men." When we turn from the political and ethical aspects of the movement to economic consideration we find conditions that should be interesting to taxpayers. According to an estimate made by Dean Moreland, the annual deficit of the TVA in its sale of power will be $10,352,000. If additional fixed charges and taxes that a utility company would have to pay are added, the annual deficit will be $20,999,000. This means that taxpayers throughout the country must pay this annual deficit to prevent the TVA Bubble from exploding.

News Behind The News

By PAUL MALLON

World Copyright 1938 by King Features Syndicate, Inc.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—Many may be called, but few will be chosen at the impending congress. Much legislation is being promoted, more will be talked, less than usual will be enacted.

Pipe lines for the session are already being laid by the downtown executives and assembling congressmen, and these furnish a fairly dependable indication of what the country is in for.

You may write the prospects on your thumb nail this way:

Farm program—only minor changes now seem likely. Administration will not propose a substitute program. Congress will howl, particularly the revival chorus for the McAdoo-Eicher bill. Sam Massingale of Oklahoma will introduce it in the house, Josh Lee or Schwellenbach (both ultra-newdealers) in the senate.

But downtown resistance will stop it, even if Mr. Roosevelt has to veto it. (Republicans might be led to let him do it but cannot wholeheartedly support such a price-fixing scheme.) Wallace is loose but he can probably hang on to his mule another year.

Rearmament—Roosevelt is trimming the program down from the 500 millions increase generally expected. Better business has made rearmament spending economically and politically unnecessary. (The money of course would not flow anyway until 1940.) The final presidential rearmament recommendations will be a hot dispute over details.

Taxes—wholly different spirit it prevails here this time. New Treasury Assistant Haynes is budding along inside with congressional ways and means and finance committees. Last year Treasurer Oliphant was telling the congressmen what to do (and they did the opposite.) Nothing has been decided. The treasury, deep down, would like to make some more reforms, but congress wants a tax-breathing session. Outcome will depend probably on business. If business is sufficiently improved late in the session some more secondary reforms may be tried along advertised lines, otherwise not.

Special rearmament tax—A dozen high responsible officials will bet you even money (but not too much) that Roosevelt will recommend a specific rearmament tax. A few even expect a flat 10 per cent increase in income taxes. If this is proposed, it will not be enacted.

Anti-monopoly—A change in which the tularemia germ may enter the body.

It has been suggested that hunters might very well avoid tularemia by eating only those rabbits which are capable of running when pursued. It is usually a sick rabbit that has the disease—the kind of rabbit that can be knocked over with a stick.

When tularemia appears on the body there is usually an ulcer at the point where the germs entered through the skin. This ulcer appears a few days after the germs have been absorbed. The patient then develops aching of the muscles and joints, weakness, chills, and fever—the condition lasting several weeks.

Some cases of tularemia have been reported in which the infection entered through the eye because the person who was dressing the rabbits stopped to rub his eye with the bare hand during the dressing process.

Caution in Handling Rabbits

Will Prevent Tularemia

Now is the time when hunters pick up tularemia while dressing rabbits for eating purposes. Cases are beginning to appear in most of the midwestern states. In practically every case it is found that the patient was exposed to infection while dressing a rabbit with his bare hands.

The germ that causes tularemia occurs primarily in rabbits and among squirrels that are sick with this disease. Deer flies and wood ticks which have fed on the blood of infected rabbits sometimes bite human beings and spread the infection in this manner. Obviously the best method of protection against tularemia is to avoid the bites of deer flies and wood ticks and to cover the hands with gloves so that any injury to the skin will not prove to be a place in

WARD OF STATE SEEKS LIBERTY

Believing himself to be sane now, Edmund B. Graiewski, 38, Santa Ana, who has been confined in Mendocino state hospital since June, 1937, will appear before Superior Judge H. G. Ames tomorrow at 1:30 p. m. to apply for freedom.

A former electrical store employee here, Graiewski assertedly issued a fictitious check in 1937. On May 4 of that year, a warrant for his arrest was issued and after being located in Illinois, he was extradited to California for prosecution.

Adjudged Insane

On May 4 of the same year, Graiewski waived preliminary hearing in Santa Ana Justice court, was remanded to superior court for trial.

In the higher court he pleaded not guilty by reason of insanity, was found insane and sent to the state institution after being examined by two alienists, records show. He was represented by Atty. L. A. West. Attorney West prepared necessary papers, asking restoration of rights for Graiewski, and Graiewski was returned to Orange county by Dr. Cushman, head of the Mendocino hospital, Tuesday to await the hearing.

ESCAPE TO HOLLYWOOD

by KATHRYN CULVER

Linda Bailey's father has been considered Centerville's wealthiest citizen, but he dies and leaves her impoverished. To hide this, she sets out for Hollywood, over the protests of Fred Lancaster, who expected to marry her. En route she meets Martin Carstairs, movie star. In Los Angeles she takes an apartment with Mae Baxter, another screen aspirant, and later they get jobs in a five-and-ten store. Linda begins to fall in love with Martin, but breaks with him when she hears he is secretly married to Judith Grange, actress, but always becomes infatuated with newcomers. Fred Lancaster comes to visit Linda and she and Mae stage a high-hat act to make Fred think Linda is a screen success. But Fred bores her and she is glad when he goes home with Helen Debler, a home-town rival of Linda's. One night Martin calls on Linda, swears he loves her and she lets him kiss her. Mae calls him a fraud and drives him away. Linda is heart-broken. But after a talk with Mae she determines to face life. A film scout appears at the store and says, "How would you like to go in the movies?"

CHAPTER XXX

LINDA had heard this line many times since going to work behind the perfume counter. It was one of the accepted conversational openings of the "pick-up" boys who made a game of trying to date shopgirls.

She had a stock reply, which she used this time.

"Thanks, but I'm not interested in the movies... or in you."

"That doesn't make sense," an amused voice told her. "Every girl is interested in the movies."

Linda looked at him then. It was something of a shock to gaze at widely spaced, honest gray eyes, a wide mouth with humorously quirked lips, broad shoulders wearing a gray sack coat negligently, as though clothes didn't matter at all.

He was distinctly not the type she had expected to see. He grinned widely and drawled:

"I'm on the up and up, babe. I get paid a nice salary for picking girls like you for screen tests."

He continued to grin cheerfully at Linda.

"I've never gone in for perfume. What would you select for my personality, babe?"

Linda laughed softly. "The fragrance of an old briar pipe."

He dug a short-stemmed pipe from his coat pocket.

"You'll do. When can I see you about that screen test?"

Linda's eyes went to the big clock above the door. It lacked fifteen minutes of closing time. Something in the young man's manner convinced her he was genuine... that this was real... the break Mae had insisted would come.

SOMEHOW she felt no wild thrill of exultation. Only a deep-rooted sense of contentment. The conviction that here, at last, was her long-awaited chance.

She said quietly: "I'll be through in fifteen minutes. Can you wait that long?"

"I've been waiting all these years, babe. Fifteen minutes is a smidgeon."

He moved to the entrance and sat on the end of a bench where Linda could see him.

She went on with the last-minute details of her day's work mechanically, arranging her stock for the night, checking her sales slips and cash.

She hadn't expected it to happen like this. So casually. No one about her had noticed the young man. None of the other girls had the slightest idea what a tremen-

The meeting was then turned over to the program chairman, Mrs. Richard Leurs, who introduced the harmonica band, which rendered two selections, "Silent Night" and "Come All Ye Faithful." Miss Virginia Head played two accordion numbers, "Waltzing Around" and "Destiny Waltz." The sixth grade chorus sang two numbers. Judge Kenneth Morrison spoke on "The Spiritual Development of the Child."

The Hoover P. T. A. held its December meeting in the school auditorium, where the children of the school presented a Christmas program. As there were so many more parents wanting to see the program than there were seats, it was necessary to repeat the program the following mornink. The principal, Miss Isabel Lindsay and the teachers, Misses Alice McVey, J. Valley and Frances Green, and Misses Maurie Hamill and Doris Schenck were responsible for the splendid performance.

The children of the school have been gathering around the Christmas tree in the lower corridor each morning this week before going to their classrooms to sing Christmas carols.

At a recent executive board meeting it was reported that the rummage sale, under the direction of the finance chairman, Mrs. E. F. ## THIEF ROBS THIEF

MONTREAL (UP)—Harry Parkins, 53, confessed robber, complained here that "some crook" had stolen the loot he himself had stolen from a summer home at Laval-sur-le-Lac. After robbing the home, Parkins brought the loot to the city and hid it. When he went to get the goods, they were gone.

Though blind, Charley Gaseley, of Burton Latimer, Northants, England, makes bicycles from scrap metal as a hobby.
